Hussein Announces Jordan Crisis, Blamed On Soviet By U.S., Ended

Young Monarch Not Interested In Ike Doctrine

AMMAN, Jordan, April 30 (AP)—King Hussein announced today "The crisis in Jordan is ended."

The 21-year-old monarch, apparently feeling himself in firm control after three weeks of touch-and-go tension which threatened the peace of the whole Middle East, rejected a Soviet complaint that the United States was interfering in Jordan affairs.

He told a crowded news conference Jordan is not interested in the Eisenhower Doctrine which aims to defend the Middle East from Communist aggression.

"But if it is a matter of combating communism, this we are doing," he said. "The spread of communism is a threat to our national and spiritual well-being."

Threat Remains

The danger was not over, despite the surface calm. Military law remained in effect in this nervous kingdom, target for heavy propaganda attacks from Egypt, Syria and the Soviet Union. Political parties remained under a ban.

The King said he declined a visit from President Eisenhower's special envoy, James P. Richards, because this country had no interest in the Eisenhower Doctrine. This, plus Hussein's insistence on his continued devotion to Pan-Arab nationalism, underscored the temper of the country.

King Has Little Choice

To accept the Eisenhower Doctrine or to speak out against the Arab nationalism personified by President Nasser of Egypt would be an invitation to new disorders in a nation kept from violence only by the strict application of martial law. Despite attacks from the Syrian and Egyptian radios, the King spoke softly with regard to Pan-Arab ambitions. He was asked what he thought of those attacks.

"Whoever tries to attack Jordan or aggravate its great difficulties, that country would be the one to blame for anything that might affect the relations of the Arab countries together," Hussein replied.

Intervention Charge Fired Back At USSR

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The United States, striking back at Russia, today blamed the crisis in Jordan on intervention by Soviet-controlled "international communism."

A spokesman declared that since World War II the Soviet Union "has subjected 10 once independent nations to its rule." His application appeared to be that the Reds have been trying to gain domination of Jordan.

State Department press officer Lincoln White made the charge of foreign intervention at a news conference in response to requests for U. S. government reaction to charges made in Moscow yesterday.

Hussein Also Blamed Reds

The Soviet Foreign Ministry had declared that the United States was primarily responsible for any "grave consequences" that might arise from the Jordanian crisis. It assailed the West for "foreign interference" in the Middle East.

King Hussein of Jordan had declared last week that the troubles of his country were due to "international communism and its followers." The United States endorsed his assertion at the time but today's comments by White pinned the responsibility somewhat more directly on the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet Union," he said, "has declared that foreign intervention in the form of activities by Western powers, particularly the United States, is responsible for recent developments in Jordan.

Records Speak For Themselves

"There has indeed been foreign intervention in that country; mainly, as King Hussein said on April 24, the intervention of international communism."

White declared that the records of the United States and Russia since World War II "speak for themselves." He said the United States has "encouraged and welcomed independence movements which led to the creation of 19 new states in the world while the Soviet Union has "subjected ten once independent nations to its rule."

Proposal Due For Criticism As One-Sided

West U.S., Alaska, Siberia Would Be Inspection Areas

LONDON, April 30 (AP) — Russia offered tonight to open up part of the Soviet Union to President Eisenhower's sky patrol plan in exchange for Soviet photo surveys of Alaska and possibly all the United States west of the Mississippi River.

The plan was laid before the U. N. disarmament subcommittee and was plugged heavily by Moscow radio.

The U. S. delegation declined to comment, and other subcommittee members reacted variously. Some thought the Soviet plan slightly encouraging. Other reaction was unfavorable.

In return for Soviet photo reconnaissance of Alaska and an area that might embrace the 22 states west of the Mississippi River, the Russians offered to open up about one-third of the Soviet Union.

The Russian area would embrace eastern Siberia, an unspecified area in Europe, the Kamchatka Peninsula west of the Aleutian Islands, and Sakhalin, the big island north of Japan. But apparently the heart of European Russia including Moscow would not be included.

"One Sided" Exchange

Diplomatic quarters calculated the Russiansss wanted to photograph everything west of New Orleans and including Chicago.

The great industrial regions of the West Coast—San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle—would come within the orbit of aerial inspection.

The area also includes vital U. S. naval and air bases, missiles testing sites and power installations.

There was nothing in the plan, presented by Soviet Delegate V. A. Zorin, suggesting that any vital part of Russia would be opened to aerial inspectors.

However, the Russians are reported to have atomic installations in eastern Siberia and air bases and other military installations on Kamchatka and Sakhalin.

The Russian proposals made as part of an omnibus disarmament proposal were described by Moscow radio as a basis for "a partial agreement" on disarmament.

Nuclear Test Ban Proposed

The Russians also proposed that there be a ban on tests of H-bombs and other nuclear weapons, but suggested no immediate prohibition of the manufacture of such devices.

The U. S. delegation, headed by Harold Stassen, would not comment immediately. The British called the proposals "not very promising."

Jules Moch, French Socialist leader and veteran of U. N. disarmament talks, declared "This Russian proposal leaves much to be desired because it opens ice and wasteland of Siberia in return for opening up a huge part of the industrial area of the United States to inspection."

The Canadian delegation, fifth member of the group, made no comment on the Russian plan. There was no indication in Zorin's plan of including Canada, lying between the United States and Alaska, in the surveys.

Floodfighters Sandbag Texas River Levees

DALLAS, April 30 (AP) — Weary men patrolled Texas river levees and stacked sandbags today as swollen streams spread over croplands and into towns and cities.

The upper Sabine River in east Texas reached heights never before recorded. Upriver levees held damage to minor flooding. Residents of downstream towns remained alert, ready to flee the threatening river.

The main danger areas appeared to be on the lower reaches of the Sabine, Trinity, Brazos, Colorado, Nueces and Guadalupe, and on four bayous around Houston.

Potential Danger Spots

Reading from west to east, these were the potential danger spots: Three Rivers on the Colorado, Freeport and the Navasota area on the Brazos, Liberty on the Trinity and Deweyville on the Sabine.

The floods, which began with heavy downpours April 18, brought strange contrasts after seven searing years of drought.

In lowland areas, farmers bitterly watched as their crops were ruined for the eighth year—this time by floods. Their cattle drowned and floated downriver. Little children and their parents huddled in flood relief shelters.

In upland areas or sections not touched by damaging floods, farmers and ranchers rejoiced at greening fields and pastures.

Difficult Choice

Men controlling the gates on Texas lakes had these choices:

Keep the lake gates closed and flood upstream areas and possibly damage their dams.

Open the lakes and add more misery to the plight of downstream dwellers.

Gates were opened on Lake Whitney on the Brazos. Other major lakes with gates open included Possum Kingdom and Waco on the Brazos, and Travis and Tom Miller on the Colorado.

Water Gun Battle Ends In Tragedy

CARTERVILLE, Utah (AP)—Timothy Allan, 12, and his 7-year-old brother Kurt shot at each other with water pistols yesterday. Timothy, angry, went to a shed and got a .22 caliber rifle.

Utah patrolman Willis Vincent, who investigated, said Timothy reported he checked to make sure the rifle was not loaded, then aimed it at Kurt, who was standing on the shed roof, and pulled the trigger.

A slug smashed into Kurt's face just below the bridge of his nose on the right side. He died on the way to the hospital.

Dulles Confers With Ike, Heads For NATO Talks

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles held a 25-minute airport conference with President Eisenhower today, then took off for a North Atlantic Treaty meeting in West Germany.

A principal aim of Dulles' mission is reported to be to cement the NATO alliance more firmly together in the face of the Soviet Communist threat.

Dulles and Undersecretary Christian Herter were waiting at National Airport when Eisenhower flew in from a 13-day Georgia vacation. The two diplomats immediately climbed aboard the presidential plane, Columbine III, for their hurried conference.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the talks involevd three items: 1. Dulles' testimony to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee earlier in the afternoon. Dulles argued for restoration of 29 million dollars of the 47 million which the House cut from the department's 228-million-dollar budget.

2. "The Middle East and, of course, Jordan, the main part of that."

3. The three - day meeting of NATO foreign ministers which begins in Bonn Thursday.

Sen. Knowland Expects Budget Cut Of 3 Billion

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he thought the economy drive in Congress would succeed in reducing President Eisenhower's budget by more than three billion dollars.

The Senate's Republican leader recommended, however, that a tax cut be postponed until the rate of current and future federal spending is curbed and "some reduction" made in the national debt.

Knowland outlined his ideas to businessmen gathered here for the 45th annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

He told them the Senate will make "no blanket restorations" of the cuts already made by the House in Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 spending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, although he said some changes may be made in the appropriations bills.

"I believe Congress should and will make substantial reductions," he said. "In my personal belief they will total over three billion dollars."

Eisenhower himself has suggested ways in which next year's appropriations might be reduced by $1,858,000,000 — although he said only a small part of this amount would be reflected in reduced spending during fiscal 1958. The U.S. Chamber is calling for a slash of $4,477,000,000.

Newsmen Invited To Observe A-Tests

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Newsmen were invited today to observe and report on nine of the shots that will be fired in the 1957 nuclear tests in Nevada.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission made the announcement for the AEC, the Department of Defense and the Civil Defense Administration.

School Aid Proposal Dealt Double Blow

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Opposition by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) and postponement of Senate action by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) chilled the chances today that Congress will approve President Eisenhower's school aid program.

Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce he believes it would be "unwise" for the government to embark on a four-year program of aid for school construction such as Eisenhower has suggested.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, included school aid among four bills he said the Senate will not take up unless or until the House acts on them. He put civil rights, immigration and natural gas legislation — all of which Eisenhower has favored — in the same category.

$2 Billion Program Asked

Eisenhower asked Congress in January to authorize a four-year $2,077,500,000 program to help the states build classrooms. He included a 451-million-dollar item in his budget to get the program started in the year beginning July 1.

Knowland said it was his observation that nothing started by Congress terminates in four years.

"I have never seen the federal government contribute money without wanting to exercise control," he said. "If anything should be reserved to the states, it is control of their educational systems."

Bipartisan Opposition

Knowland's position seemed likely to be reflected in considerable Republican opposition in the Senate to the school aid plan. Some conservative Democrats also have denounced it as an invasion of states rights.

Budget cutting advocates have looked askance at the proposed expenditures. The Senate Labor Committee has delayed hearings on the measure because of prospects some members might offer a civil rights amendment.

Senators Back Bohlen, Delay McLeod Action

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today swiftly approved the assignment of career diplomat Charles E. Bohlen to the Philippines but delayed action on Scott McLeod's nomination as ambassador to Ireland.

McLeod, the State Department's controversial security chief, was directed to return tomorrow for further questioning by the committee, which spent two hours today making a "searching inquiry" into his background.

In sharp contrast, the committee unanimously endorsed Bohlen after only 30 minutes of study. He is being shifted from Moscow to Manila.

Former Judge William Clark, an old foe of McLeod's, appeared as the only witness against him. Clark, of Princeton, N. J., denounced McLeod in a statement on grounds he "encouraged the prosecution of persons accused of disloyalty without giving them a right to be heard."

Body Of Judge's Wife Found In Potomac

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — The body of Mrs. Nancy Hurt Hall of Alexandria was found in the Potomac River near Chain Bridge today.

Mrs. Hall, 32, wife of Judge Neville G. Hall Jr. of Alexandria, Va., Police Court, had been missing since April 20. Her abandoned car had been found at Great Falls, Park, Va., upstream from Chain Bridge.

Nathan Guilty Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Dr. Otto Nathan, 63, New York University professor and executor of the estate of scientist Albert Einstein, was convicted today of contempt of Congress.

The charges were brought against him last June after he refused to answer questions put to him by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He refused to say, among other things, whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party or was a member then.

Nathan was found guilty by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edward M. Curran who conducted the trial without a jury. Judge Curran deferred passing sentence; he could give Nathan as much as a year in jail and fine him up to $1,000. Nathan remained at liberty under $1,000 bond.

In another contempt of Congress case today, Seymour Peck, 39, copyreader for The New York Times, was fined $500 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Bonn Warned By Reds

BERLIN, April 30 (AP)—Communist East Germany tonight warned West Germany it would become the No. 1 target for Soviet atomic assault in the event of war.

The East German regime issued its warning in a note to Bonn carried by ADN, the official East German news agency.

Scientist Reports 10,000 Dead Or Dying Of Leukemia Because Of Nuclear Tests

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—A Nobel Prize-winning scientist estimated today that 10,000 persons are dead or dying of leukemia around the world because of the atomic or hydrogen bomb tests carried out to date.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a chemist at the California Institute of Technology, said if Great Britain carries out her scheduled H-bomb tests on Christmas Island in the Pacific, another 1,000 will die of leukemia.

"For both political and humanitarian reasons, I am strongly in favor of an international agreement among the United States, Russia and Great Britain to stop testing nuclear explosives now," he said in an interview.

Pauling said, however, that the damage caused by radioactive fallout of tests to date is only about 1 per cent of that caused by cosmic rays which bombard the earth from outer space.

"The nuclear tests won't change the nature of the human race," he said.

If the bomb tests are carried on at their present rate, he said, the number of children born in each generation with such serious defects as feeble mindedness and deformities will be increased by 1 per cent—or by 200,000.

"All scientists are agreed that the effects of the H-bomb tests are very small when compared with natural radiation," Pauling said. "But when you convert these effects to many people the number becomes large enough to anyone interested in human suffering to be concerned about it."

He added that the danger would increase sharply as smaller nations acquire atomic weapons. He said every bit of additional radiation added to the atmosphere means death or deformity for someone now living or not yet born.

Pauling, who came to Chicago to address the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society, based his estimate of 10,000 man-caused leukemia deaths or expected deaths to date on estimates that 50 megatons (the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT) of fissionable material has been exploded so far in the world.

Pauling said the radiation deaths and deformities can be caused by mutation or changes in the genes that determine or govern such things as the production of red blood cells and the structure of bones.

Blast At Coke Plant Kills One

The workman killed was identified as Leo Scott, 37, of nearby Bethel Borough, a mobile crane operator for the Wilputte Coke Oven Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Co.

Fire touched off by the blast sent flames shooting as high as 200 feet. Dense clouds of smoke rolled from the plant, located on the Monongahela River about 15 miles south of Pittsburgh.

The blast shook homes for miles around. Hundreds of residents poured into streets. A big crowd gathered at the plant.

A U. S. Steel spokesman said a cable apparently snapped on a crane while it was lifting a heavy casing and the casing fell on a main 30-inch gas line, snapping it like a matchstick.

N.Y. Congressman's Daughter Shoots Self

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — The 27-year-old daughter of a New York congressman locked herself in a ladies room of a downtown hotel today and police, summoned to the scene, found she was shot.

Police said Mrs. Malcolm Hurn, daughter of Republican Rep. William R. Williams of Cassville, N. Y., had shot herself in the abdomen with a .22 caliber rifle. She was taken to Emergency Hospital. Dr. Allen S. Cross, the Williams' family physician, said her condition was critical.

Five Senators Selected For New "Hall Of Fame"

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Five senators—Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert M. La Follette Sr. and Robert A. Taft—were named today to the Senate's new "Hall of Fame."

The first three were giants of the 19th century and their selection had generally been expected. There was no particular surprise, either, about La Follette or Taft, although others had strong backing.

The selections were made by a Senate committee headed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) and including Sens. Russell (D-Ga), Bridges (R-NH), Mansfield (D-Mont) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

Kennedy said the choices were unanimous. He said they were "not offered as the five greatest senators of all time" but simply as five outstanding senators not now living.

The Senate has been in operation 168 years but is just now getting its Hall of Fame—located in a reception room east of the Senate floor. Two years ago Sens. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and William Knowland (R-Calif), party leaders of the Senate, hit upon the idea of replacing five medallions in the reception room with portraits of five outstanding senators.

Kennedy was given the job of guiding the selection of the five, largely because he had written a book, "Profiles in Courage", and in doing so had done research into Senate history.

In the choices announced, all parts of the country except the Far West were represented. They also represented a variety of political philosophies.

Dulles Appeals Slash In Funds

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today the State Department can absorb $18,103,000 of a $47,331,000 cut made by the House in requested appropriations.

But he pleaded for restoration of the other $29,223,000. Without it, he said, "there would be harm to the nation which, in the opinion of the President and myself, would be real and grievious."

Dulles testified after Senate Democratic Leader Johnson (Texas), presiding over the subcommittee, read him a lecture, somewhat pointed at times, on the subject of economy.

Johnson recalled that Dulles first appeared before the subcommittee exactly four years ago today and "agreed absolutely with a" statement that a decrease in personnel" in the State Department in some areas "should result in more efficient operation."

"Now—four years, almost to the second, later—you appear before this committee and ask for an appropriation of 76 million dollars greater than your predecessor, Dean Acheson," Johnson said.

"It is 97 million dollars more than you thought adequate in that year."

Newsmen Invited To Observe A-Tests

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Newsmen were invited today to observe and report on nine of the shots that will be fired in the 1957 nuclear tests in Nevada.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission made the announcement for the AEC, the Department of Defense and the Civil Defense Administration.

Blast At Coke Plant Kills One

The workman killed was identified as Leo Scott, 37, of nearby Bethel Borough, a mobile crane operator for the Wilputte Coke Oven Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Co.

Fire touched off by the blast sent flames shooting as high as 200 feet. Dense clouds of smoke rolled from the plant, located on the Monongahela River about 15 miles south of Pittsburgh.

The blast shook homes for miles around. Hundreds of residents poured into streets. A big crowd gathered at the plant.

A U. S. Steel spokesman said a cable apparently snapped on a crane while it was lifting a heavy casing and the casing fell on a main 30-inch gas line, snapping it like a matchstick.

School Aid Proposal Dealt Double Blow

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Opposition by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) and postponement of Senate action by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) chilled the chances today that Congress will approve President Eisenhower's school aid program.

Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce he believes it would be "unwise" for the government to embark on a four-year program of aid for school construction such as Eisenhower has suggested.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, included school aid among four bills he said the Senate will not take up unless or until the House acts on them. He put civil rights, immigration and natural gas legislation — all of which Eisenhower has favored — in the same category.

$2 Billion Program Asked

Eisenhower asked Congress in January to authorize a four-year $2,077,500,000 program to help the states build classrooms. He included a 451-million-dollar item in his budget to get the program started in the year beginning July 1.

Knowland said it was his observation that nothing started by Congress terminates in four years.

"I have never seen the federal government contribute money without wanting to exercise control," he said. "If anything should be reserved to the states, it is control of their educational systems."

Bipartisan Opposition

Knowland's position seemed likely to be reflected in considerable Republican opposition in the Senate to the school aid plan. Some conservative Democrats also have denounced it as an invasion of states rights.

Budget cutting advocates have looked askance at the proposed expenditures. The Senate Labor Committee has delayed hearings on the measure because of prospects some members might offer a civil rights amendment.

Senators Back Bohlen, Delay McLeod Action

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today swiftly approved the assignment of career diplomat Charles E. Bohlen to the Philippines but delayed action on Scott McLeod's nomination as ambassador to Ireland.

McLeod, the State Department's controversial security chief, was directed to return tomorrow for further questioning by the committee, which spent two hours today making a "searching inquiry" into his background.

In sharp contrast, the committee unanimously endorsed Bohlen after only 30 minutes of study. He is being shifted from Moscow to Manila.

Former Judge William Clark, an old foe of McLeod's, appeared as the only witness against him. Clark, of Princeton, N. J., denounced McLeod in a statement on grounds he "encouraged the prosecution of persons accused of disloyalty without giving them a right to be heard."

Mrs. Hall, 32, wife of Judge Neville G. Hall Jr. of Alexandria, Va., Police Court, had been missing since April 20. Her abandoned car had been found at Great Falls, Park, Va., upstream from Chain Bridge.

Dulles Appeals Slash In Funds

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today the State Department can absorb $18,103,000 of a $47,331,000 cut made by the House in requested appropriations.

But he pleaded for restoration of the other $29,223,000. Without it, he said, "there would be harm to the nation which, in the opinion of the President and myself, would be real and grievious."

Dulles testified after Senate Democratic Leader Johnson (Texas), presiding over the subcommittee, read him a lecture, somewhat pointed at times, on the subject of economy.

Johnson recalled that Dulles first appeared before the subcommittee exactly four years ago today and "agreed absolutely with a" statement that a decrease in personnel" in the State Department in some areas "should result in more efficient operation."

"Now—four years, almost to the second, later—you appear before this committee and ask for an appropriation of 76 million dollars greater than your predecessor, Dean Acheson," Johnson said.

"It is 97 million dollars more than you thought adequate in that year."

Nathan Guilty Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Dr. Otto Nathan, 63, New York University professor and executor of the estate of scientist Albert Einstein, was convicted today of contempt of Congress.

The charges were brought against him last June after he refused to answer questions put to him by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He refused to say, among other things, whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party or was a member then.

Nathan was found guilty by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edward M. Curran who conducted the trial without a jury. Judge Curran deferred passing sentence; he could give Nathan as much as a year in jail and fine him up to $1,000. Nathan remained at liberty under $1,000 bond.

In another contempt of Congress case today, Seymour Peck, 39, copyreader for The New York Times, was fined $500 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Scientist Reports 10,000 Dead Or Dying Of Leukemia Because Of Nuclear Tests

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—A Nobel Prize-winning scientist estimated today that 10,000 persons are dead or dying of leukemia around the world because of the atomic or hydrogen bomb tests carried out to date.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a chemist at the California Institute of Technology, said if Great Britain carries out her scheduled H-bomb tests on Christmas Island in the Pacific, another 1,000 will die of leukemia.

"For both political and humanitarian reasons, I am strongly in favor of an international agreement among the United States, Russia and Great Britain to stop testing nuclear explosives now," he said in an interview.

Pauling said, however, that the damage caused by radioactive fallout of tests to date is only about 1 per cent of that caused by cosmic rays which bombard the earth from outer space.

"The nuclear tests won't change the nature of the human race," he said.

If the bomb tests are carried on at their present rate, he said, the number of children born in each generation with such serious defects as feeble mindedness and deformities will be increased by 1 per cent—or by 200,000.

"All scientists are agreed that the effects of the H-bomb tests are very small when compared with natural radiation," Pauling said. "But when you convert these effects to many people the number becomes large enough to anyone interested in human suffering to be concerned about it."

He added that the danger would increase sharply as smaller nations acquire atomic weapons. He said every bit of additional radiation added to the atmosphere means death or deformity for someone now living or not yet born.

Pauling, who came to Chicago to address the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society, based his estimate of 10,000 man-caused leukemia deaths or expected deaths to date on estimates that 50 megatons (the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT) of fissionable material has been exploded so far in the world.

Pauling said the radiation deaths and deformities can be caused by mutation or changes in the genes that determine or govern such things as the production of red blood cells and the structure of bones.

N.Y. Congressman's Daughter Shoots Self

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — The 27-year-old daughter of a New York congressman locked herself in a ladies room of a downtown hotel today and police, summoned to the scene, found she was shot.

Police said Mrs. Malcolm Hurn, daughter of Republican Rep. William R. Williams of Cassville, N. Y., had shot herself in the abdomen with a .22 caliber rifle. She was taken to Emergency Hospital. Dr. Allen S. Cross, the Williams' family physician, said her condition was critical.

Five Senators Selected For New "Hall Of Fame"

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Five senators—Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert M. La Follette Sr. and Robert A. Taft—were named today to the Senate's new "Hall of Fame."

The first three were giants of the 19th century and their selection had generally been expected. There was no particular surprise, either, about La Follette or Taft, although others had strong backing.

The selections were made by a Senate committee headed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) and including Sens. Russell (D-Ga), Bridges (R-NH), Mansfield (D-Mont) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

Kennedy said the choices were unanimous. He said they were "not offered as the five greatest senators of all time" but simply as five outstanding senators not now living.

The Senate has been in operation 168 years but is just now getting its Hall of Fame—located in a reception room east of the Senate floor. Two years ago Sens. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and William Knowland (R-Calif), party leaders of the Senate, hit upon the idea of replacing five medallions in the reception room with portraits of five outstanding senators.

Kennedy was given the job of guiding the selection of the five, largely because he had written a book, "Profiles in Courage", and in doing so had done research into Senate history.

In the choices announced, all parts of the country except the Far West were represented. They also represented a variety of political philosophies.

Nixon Sees Russian Empire Eventually Destroyed By Revolt

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — Vice President Nixon predicted tonight that a "decisive revolt" at home eventually will destroy Russia's Communist empire.

Nixon said in a speech prepared for a joint meeting of the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith that last year's uprisings in Poland and Hungary "were the beginning, not the end, of an internal revolt that will ultimately sweep away the Communist empire."

"The brave fighters of Hungary were subdued by overwhelming force," Nixon said. "The people of Poland have achieved some measure of freedom, but their independence is strictly limited.

"But the fact that these uprisings occurred proves two important truths. They show that the desire for freedom is so deep in the heart of man that neither the tyranny of secret police nor the brainwashing of unending propaganda can make men believe that slavery is freedom or that lies are truth."

Nixon said these events proved "that no group in a Communist country can be considered reliable by its leaders in the event of a decisive struggle between democracy and communism."

"The leaders of the Kremlin know that their armies are not reliable," he said. "They realize that unrest and dissension are barely hidden in their colleges and universities. They are aware of grumblings and doubts in the ranks of the Communist party itself.

"And they know that these pressures are mounting until some day there will be a decisive revolt at the very center of the Communist empire. When that day comes, the entire rotten structure will collapse of its own weight."

Nixon gave no indication whether he was reflecting the views of other Eisenhower administration officials.

He spoke primarily as a representative of President Eisenhower's committee to eliminate racial and other discrimination in government contract work.

Nixon said that because of their precarious position, the rulers of the Kremlin are broadcasting propaganda that the United States is "a land groaning under exploitation and discrimination."

"This is a caricature, of course, but it is most important that we do not feed Red propagandists raw material for such caricatures," he said.

Teamsters Call Strategy Talks

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — The Teamsters Union today called a union executive board session for Sunday a day ahead of the union's scheduled AFL-CIO trial on corruption charges.

The AFL-CIO hearing Monday will be before the federation's Ethical Practices Committee. There has been doubt whether Teamsters representativse would show up at the session which might produce decisive action toward throwing the union out of the AFL-CIO unless it changes its course and its leaders.

The Teamsters board session Sunday would give Teamsters leaders time to decide: 1. Whether to attend the Monday hearing, and 2. What, if anything, the union is going to do about AFL-CIO President George Meany's refusal to negotiate over the suspension of Teamsters President Dave Beck as an AFL-CIO officer.

Beck, accused by Senate rackets probers of having misused some $320,000 of Teamsters' Union funds, is under separate AFL-CIO charges that he has brought the labor movement into disrepute. He is due to face trial before the AFL-CIO Executive Council on May 20.

Probe Demands Navy Answer To Allegations

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Senate rackets probers demanded today a quick answer from the Navy to allegations that it provided money for "bribery or extortion" payments to Teamsters Union officials.

The special Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D - Ark) announced it would explore fully the testimony of manufacturer Earl P. Bettendorf. The businessman said the Navy amended one of his contracts to give his firm an extra $18,591.30, knowing that about $4,000 of it would be used for payoffs to union officials.

Bettendorf, who lives in Texarkana, Tex., and operates manufacturing plants at Ashdown, Ark. and Sandston, Va., gave the testimony at a public hearing yesterday.

The committee is making a year's search for evidence of racketeering in labor and industry.

Slaying Suspect Battles Officer

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP) — A man being questioned in a murder case fought a savage battle with an unarmed policeman in an elevator at Central Police Headquarters today in a futile attempt to escape.

The man, 36-year-old Meachow Bunch of Baltimore, somehow broke out of his third floor detention cell, police said. He got onto a self-service elevator being used by Patrolman James Mack.

Other officers, hearing the noise of the fight in the elevator, chased it from floor to floor trying to open the doors. A call went out to all available squad cars in the downtown area and the headquarters building was quickly surrounded.

When the elevator doors were forced open, about 15 minutes after the fight began, both the patrolman and the 36-year-old Negro were so badly beaten they were taken by ambulance to Mercy Hospital.

Bunch has been questioned in the robbery-slaying of 70-year-old Heinz Heymann, president of a German - American Restaurant, the Deutsches Haus, Inc.

Heymann was found bludgeoned to death in a cellar areaway of the restaurant Sunday.

Navy Rocket Sets Altitude Record

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M., April 30 (AP)—A Navy Aerobee rocket zoomed 190 miles above the earth today, setting an altitude record for single-stage booster rockets.

The old record was 164 miles, set last year.

The rocket, which a proving ground spokesman said did not carry instruments such as have been sent aloft in recent earth satellite-associated firings, reached a speed of slightly more than 4,900 m.p.h.

The burning time of the rocket fuel, 53 seconds, exceeded by a second or two the expectations of Aerojet-General Engineers, builders of the rocket. The rocket fuel burned out at 149,000 feet, or nearly 30 miles higher.

Denmark Rejects Russian Threats

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, April 30 (AP)—Denmark told Soviet Russia today she is staying in NATO, considering it the only peace-saving instrument now available in Europe.

The Danish reply to Soviet nuclear threats was in the same calm, firm vein as a note which Norway sent to Moscow April 13.

Norway, too, declared she intends to stay put in the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin had fired off threatening notes to both, asserting that use of their territory for atomic bases would expose them to extinction in an atomic war. West Germany, also a NATO member, and neutral Sweden have been targets of similar threats.

Airliner Explodes; Six Leap To Safety

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Six crewmen leaped to safety today when a four-engine DC7 airliner caught fire and exploded while making practice landings at Friendship International Airport.

Capt. E. B. Morris, the pilot also of Long Island, sprained his ankle when he jumped.

Hopkins To Revise Medical Program

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP) — A revised program of medical education—aimed at producing more doctors in less time and giving them a broader education—was announced today by the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions.

The program already had the approval of the faculty of the School of Medicine, and final adoption had awaited acquisition of 10 million dollars of new capital needed to launch the plan.

"As a result of recent substantial grants from the Rockefeller Foundation, the Ford Foundation, the Commonwealth Fund, the U.S. Public Health Service and from various private sources, the required capital is now in hand," the announcement said.

The funds will be used for construction of a modern basic science building at the medical school and to hire additional faculty members. Since construction of the building will not be completed until the fall of 1959, the revised program will not be put into full operation for another two years.

Meanwhile, appropriate faculty committees of the university will formulate final details of the new curriculum.

Day Of The Colorful Congressman Gone

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Anyone who drops around to gaze at Congress, back on the job after the Easter recess, will be forced to one conclusion.

The days of the colorful congressman are gone.

For better or worse, these men and women look like any other group of sedate citizens, gathered perhaps for a conference on safety or for a stockholders' meeting.

Where today can you find another Blue Jeans Williams? Where is there another Sockless Jerry Simpson? Where is there another George Tinkham, who wore a Van Dyke beard, a pea jacket and got himself re-elected to Congress even while big game hunting in Africa?

Where, even is there another Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D-NC)? Hoey, who died in 1954, wore a frock coat, high-topped shoes, a red carnation and was a walking advertisement of his profession: Politics, in the old fashioned Southern style.

Tinkham, who died last fall, put in 28 years as a representative from Massachusetts.

Rep. Philip J. Philbin (D-Mass) said of Tinkham in the House: "His political success was sensational; his personality and make-up unique."

Philbin said Tinkham used to bring back his hunting victims, stuff them and keep them in the various rooms of his apartment. Then, at night, he liked to take visitors through his museum using only a flashlight for light.

To come suddenly on a deadly cobra and mongoose in a midnight death battle, Philbin assured his colleagues, was an impressive sight.

Curiously Sockless Jerry Simpson, a Kansas congressman who served in the House from 1891 to 1899, really wore socks. But he got his name after he ridiculed an opponent for wearing silk socks apparently a political crime in Kansas at that time.

But even with his socks on, Jerry cut quite a figure. At one point he and his colleagues had the full text of Henry George's "Progress and Poverty" read into the Congressional Record.

Simpson stirred up so much trouble that Spekaer Thomas B. Reed, visiting Kansas, said Sockless Jerry's district "had been represented by chaos."

Simpson got even by calling Reed "a political cannibal autocrat." Whereupon Tom Reed sourly told a friend: "Tom and Jerry may mix in a bar room, but not in the House of Representatives."

James Douglas Williams, who served a couple of years in Congress before resigning in 1876 to become governor of Indiana, actually wore blue wool jeans. He also wore an old, stained stovepipe hat, and since he was 6 feet 4, with huge hands and feet, he must have been an imposing figure.

But Blue Jeans was no hayseed. He long was active in Indiana politics, and he owned a thriving farm of 4,000 acres.

Those blue jeans were made out of wool sheared from his own sheep.

How many congressmen can make that statement nowadays?

W.Va. Health Chief Seeks Bid Advice

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 30 (AP) — State Health Director N. H. Dyer said today he has asked the attorney general for advice about the state laws on accepting low bids.

Dr. Dyer explained that Baltimore Contractors Inc. of Baltimore, Md. complained last week because its low bid for constructing the 400-bed teaching hospital at West Virginia University was not accepted.

The WVU Board of Governors awarded the contract on April 10 to McShain Corp., of Baltimore. McShain bid $13,172,000 and agreed to complete the project in 870 days. Baltimore Contractors, which bid $12,844,000, said it would take 1,200 days to complete the project.

The board of governors indicated that it accepted the second lowest bid because it would mean the hospital would be completed nearly a year earlier.

The first blue jean overalls were made in the United States about 1880.

Convention Renouncing Use Of Force Another Step Toward European Unity

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Europe has taken another step toward unity and international cooperation under law.

The ball which started rolling so slowly and so tentatively after World War II has acquired history-making force.

First there came Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, in dire need of economic recovery, with a customs union called Benelux.

A few men—Churchill of Britain De Gasperi of Italy, Adenauer of Germany, Monnet and Schuman of France—looked farther.

The Council of Europe was established, without legislative authority, where mutual problems could be threshed over and the tone of Western European thinking set.

A pool was established to supervise the production and marketing of coal and steel.

More recently, six of the nations extended the coal and steel pool idea to all trade, including agriculture, and to the development of atomic power for peaceful purposes. Two more international control bodies were thus agreed upon, with an international fund for development purposes. This latter is especially revolutionary, since it means German and French cooperation in development of Europe's territories and appendages overseas.

Soon these vast European businesses will come under the direction of a new council, not appointed as the various control bodies are now, but elected from each country by popular vote.

And there, after all the centuries, you will see a Parliament of Europe in the making.

The latest step was taken Sunday at Strasburg, at the opening of the Council of Europe's 1957 session.

Representatives of 13 nations signed and deposited with the Council a convention renouncing the use of force to settle disputes among them. They agreed to live under international law as interpreted by the Court of International Justice, or to arbitrate. The protocol is subject to legislative approval in each country. The two other Council members, Austria and Turkey, will sign when legal processes at home have been met.

The accord covers "new business," and not such current disputes as Cyprus and the partition of Ireland.

It was made possible by the bilateral settlement of the biggest problem between members on the Continent—the Saar—which was achieved in friendly negotiations between France and Germany, which were for so long at each other's throats.

The cumulative historical impact of these slow and carefully worked out steps toward unity are giving the term European a new meaning.

Ten years ago, amid the traditional prejudices of a Europe which no conqueror had ever been able to unite, such things were considered pure dream-stuff.

12 Students Flee From East Germany

BERLIN, April 30 (AP) — Twelve students of a veterinary high school in the East German city of Rostock fled to West Berlin over the weekend, the West Berlin newspaper Telegraf reported tonight.

The 12, among them seven girls, told West Berlin refugee officials they fled for "political reasons", the Telegraf said. They said their teacher had fled to West Berlin during the Easter holidays.

Weren't Pajamas But Florida Suit

HAMILTON, Ont., April 30 (AP)— Police who responded yesterday to a woman's complaint that a man clad only in pajamas was sipping coffee in a downtown restaurant found the man had a few complaints of his own.

He said other customers had annoyed him with remarks about his attire and that he wasn't wearing pajamas anyway—but a suit he bought on a recent trip to Miami.

In olden times, pie was served as the main course instead of dessert.

Closing Of Suez Canal Cost U. S. Navy Millions

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Closing of the Suez Canal cost the U. S. Navy eight million dollars in extra fuel transportation charges.

And the State Department doesn't expect to collect on all of its bills for evacuating private American citizens and foreigners from the troubled area.

These financial footnotes to the Middle East crisis showed up in testimony given earlier this month to a House Appropriations subcommittee considering bills to tide over until June 30 government departments which spent more than they anticipated. The testimony was made public yesterday.

Rear Adm. R. J. Arnold told the subcommittee that last fall "fleet operations in the Mediterranean area were increased and at the same time our source for petroleum products in that area dried up due to the closure of the canal." As a result, he said, "we were obliged to redistribute stocks of oil which we had in storage in the continental United States."

Getting these stocks out to the Mediterranean and making the necessary readjustments at home cost $4,014,000, the admiral said.

Then, he continued, a tanker shortage developed so that the Navy had to concentrate some of its aviation fuels at Navy depots where they could be picked up. This involved pipeline and shipping costs to the tune of $3,182,000, Arnold said.

Finally, he said, the Military Sea Transportation Service, which was doing some of the transporting, found its costs going up and raised the bill to the Navy $804,000.

State Department witnesses told the subcommittee the department evacuated from Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria, after the fighting began, some 3,213 persons, including 233 who were employes of the department itself or their dependents. The cost ran to about one million dollars.

Paper Mill Gets Permit To Build Bridge At Luke

The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company yesterday obtained permission from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to build a temporary trestle bridge across the Potomac River at Luke.

Horace P. Whitworth Jr., attorney for the company, explained that the bridge would be used to transport building materials to be used in connection with part of the $50,000,000 Luke mill expansion program.

The company purchased a tract of land on the West Virginia side of the stream from the B&O Railroad and a concrete batch plant will be located on the site. The concrete will be moved across the bridge when full-scale construction work starts at the Luke plant.

The commissioners also instructed J. Walker Chapman to erect three 25-mile an hour road signs on the Frog Hollow Road in Eckhart. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson asked that similar road signs be erected on the DeHaven Road.

The $5,000 bond of Magistrate Howard R. Stevens at Mt. Savage was approved by the board.

A petition signed by approximately 50 residents of the Dawson area was received asking that the roadway leading from U. S. Route 220 to the Dawson Cemetery be repaired. They asked that ditches be dug and several culverts placed on the roadway.

State Office To Open Bids For College Improvements

The Maryland Department of Public Improvements will open bids Thursday on a contract to improve the quadrangle at Frostburg State Teachers College.

R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, said the contract entails electrical work, steps, step ramps and walks.

He said the number of concrete walks across the quadrangle will be doubled.

Sod will be placed over the entire area which was the former athletic field before the school construction program was undertaken.

Temporary wooden steps will be replaced by concrete steps and nine lights will be placed on standards, most of them near the steps.

The quadrangle is formed by Old Main, the former main college building, the laboratory school, the Science Hall, Compton Hall and Lowndes Hall, the boys' dormitory, the latter four new structures and the girls' dormitory.

Bidders on the work so far have been Liller Asphalt Company, McMullen Highway; Liller Construction Company, Cresaptown; John I. Vandegrift Company, and Hout Construction Company, both of Cumberland; Highland Engineering Corporation, Woodbine; State Contraction Company, Baltimore, and the Baughman Construction Company.

At Frostburg yesterday discussing the plans was James L. Reed, supervisor of school plants for the State Department of Education.

He and Hardesty discussed the plans for this contract and for the new athletic field to be placed in the rear of Compton Hall.

Court Advice May Be Sought On Petitions

The attorney for the City of Cumberland indicated yesterday the city is considering asking Circuit Court for a declaratory judgement on various errors and their legal import in connection with petitions calling for a referendum on a $500,000 bond issue.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan issued the statement after final checks of the petitions revealed that there are 364 signatures where it is thought one person signed for two or more others. A City Hall source said it is apparent that the people whose names appear on the petition are registered but it is also apparent that one person had signed for one or more other than himself.

A report on the complete findings during the check of the petitions is being prepared by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery and will be presented to members of the Mayor and Council.

An informal discussion on the petitions was held prior to Monday's meeting of council and it was indicated that another meeting would be held later this week.

Ace Humbertson Head Of Musicians

Ace Humbertson, a member of the Cumberland Municipal Concert Band was elected president of Local 787, American Federation of Musicians, at a meeting recently in the Labor Temple.

He suceeds Thomas Smithem, who served a number of years in that capacity.

Other officers include Robert Apsey, vice president, and James E. Jimmy Andrews, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Trustees are Ward Cole, Thomas Seifert and Herman Humbertson.

W. Valgene Routch was chosen delegate to the national convention of the American Federation of Musicians in June in Atlantic City.

The local union represents approximately 130 musicians of this section.

Thirteen applicants took examinations for city positions as fireman, policeman and warehouse clerk at Fort Hill High School Monday.

Included were three for fireman, and five each for police and warehouse clerk, according to Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and secretary to the commission. Ullery said the commission met last night to score the examinations.

T. R. Foote Speaker At PTA Council

Theodore P. Foote, supervisor of art instruction for the Allegany County Board of Education, was principal speaker at the regular meeting of the County PTA Council Monday at Parkside School, LaVale.

Foote emphasized the role of art in the lives of school children and said a child should be encouraged to use his own initiative as a means of self expression.

Miss Margaret Doak, Parkside principal and PTA productions chairman, announced that the two plays sponsored by the council for elementary children next year will be "Dick Whittington's Remarkable Cat," and "Pinocchio."

Centre Street and Corriganville schools were selected to send delegates to the summer conference at the University of Maryland under council sponsorship. Cresaptown School was selected as alternate.

Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, vice president, announced that a PTA workshop will be held Thursday, May 23, at Frostburg State Teachers College with registration from 7 to 7:30 p. m. Fields to be covered include juvenile protection, program planning, conducting a model meeting and membership, life membership and scholarship.

Mrs. Calvin Keiter, character and spiritual education chairman, spoke on "A Graduation Gift."

Man Is Ordered To Institution For Treatment

Melvin L. Hartman, 49-year-old local man, yesterday was ordered committed to the Patuxent Institution for mental therapy upon an order signed by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Hartman had been convicted two weeks ago of carnal knowledge of a 13-year-old girl. Judge Harris imposed a sentence of 10 years in the state penitentiary on the charge and then explained that the Patuxent Institution had been set up to help persons who are emotionally unstable and as a result become involved in sex crimes. The prison term is suspended to allow for the treatment at the institution.

Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis Jr., local psychiatrist, testified at yesterday's session of Circuit Court concerning his psychiatric examination of Hartman last Friday. The examination was made upon order of Judge Harris.

Dr. Trevaskis said that Hartman's history shows he has a "spotty" work record, a low level of education and is schizophrenic. The psychiatrist said Hartman had hallucinations and "voices" crying out to him, particularly at night. Dr. Trevaskis also said Hartman denied he was guilty of the charge for which he was convicted.

The doctor said Hartman knows right from wrong but is dangerous to the community, particularly children, if left at large. He said Hartman needs psychiatric care.

Judge Harris said the crime for which Hartman was convicted is a revolting one and shows a "deep-rooted facet of his personality." The court said the Patuxent Institution can give him psychiatric treatment and make annual reports to Circuit Court here as to his condition. The man can seek a hearing in the future on whether or not he is a defective delinquent.

Absence Of Sign Cited In Court Case

The absence of a stop sign played an important role in a hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason dismissed charges against two local drivers involved in an accident Saturday at the intersection of Fourth Street and Seymour Street.

The drivers, Miss Nancy Taylor, 16, of 216 Milton Place, and James Earl Long, 22, of 27 Lamont Street, collided in the center of the intersection.

Miss Taylor was traveling west on Fourth Street, while Long was traveling north on Seymour, police said.

Magistrate Mason dismissed reckless driving charges against the drivers.

He told attorneys for the defendants that had a stop sign been erected at the intersection the accident might have been avoided.

The magistrate pointed out the absence of stop signs in South End have entered in several cases in his court within the past few months.

In dismissing charges against Long, Magistrate Mason warned the youth that he could have been charged with failing to grant the right-of-way, but was not guilty of reckless driving.

Construction Unions Have New Contracts

Building Trades Council officials yesterday reported that virtually all crafts have reached agreements on new contracts which become effective in the construction industry today.

Harry L. Hickle, president, said most of the crafts settled for about 25 cents an hour. He explained that averages about 12½ cents this year, since they went without an increase last year.

For the most part, crafts this year negotiated their own contracts with general or sub-contractors, instead of a blanket pact.

Dam Gives Up Body Of Boy, 10

SALISBURY, Md., April 30 (AP)—The body of Ronnie Corry washed through the flood gate of a small dam today a few hours after his parents had left for their New Jersey home.

The 10-year-old youngster had been the object of an intensive search since he disappeared Sunday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Corry of Riverside, N. J., had planned to return here later today to continue the search.

In a desperate bid to find the body, city workers opened the gate of Beaver Dam in Municipal Park to drain the shallow lake. Minutes after it was opened, the boy's body washed down the spillway.

Park Superintendent Milton Ardis said the body must have been lodged against the dam.

Ronnie was last seen playing about 50 feet from the dam. He and his 13-year-old brother, Wallace Jr., went to the park Sunday while the family was visiting here.

Wallace returned saying he had lost Ronnie after going swimming in the stream. Ronnie's shoes and socks were found on the bank.

A search party of 75 to 100 persons had combed every foot of the park and the surrounding area and low-flying airplanes spread out over the nearby farm areas.

The city of Taunton, Mass., is the greatest tack-making center in the world.

Milk Producers Cancel Marketing Order Request

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Maryland milk producers having adjusted prices to a level, satisfactory to themselves, today asked the federal government not to issue a marketing order.

The Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., last July sought a federal milk marketing order "to stabilize" prices in the Baltimore area and improve farm income.

It complained at the time that some dairies were paying from ½ cent to 2 cents less per quart for their milk than other distributors were paying to the cooperative.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture held hearings on the request for a marketing order last winter and took the case under study.

But today, W. P. Sadler, manager of the cooperative which supplies about 80 per cent of the milk sold in the area, said the cooperative had asked the government to suspend action on the case for the time being.

The turnabout, he said, resulted from lengthy negotiations between the farmers, the cooperative which represents them and the dairies. Those who previously were not buying milk from the cooperative or were buying little apparently have decided to become better customers.

A spokesman for the Department of Agriculture in Washington said the formal letter from the cooperative had not been received but he thought it "quite likely" the department would "go along" with the request that it withdraw from the case.

The new negotiations, while improving the farmers' position, may in the long run mean higher prices to the consumer.

"Quite naturally we hope that we have gained for our farmer members—and non-members too—in the way of increased sales of milk at a reasonable price, will be maintained," Sadler said. "Generally speaking our discussions with our dairy friends have been in a friendly atmosphere and we hope to keep them that way."

A spokesman for the cooperative said the average price now being paid farmers in the Baltimore milkshed is $5.50 a hundredweight, or about 11.8 cents a quart.

Regular selected milk delivered to the home in Baltimore is now 25 cents a quart. Homogenized milk sells for 26 cents.

First Quarter Traffic Deaths Under 1956

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—March traffic deaths of 2,920 were higher than either January or February and were just the same as those of March, 1956, the National Safety Council reported today.

Traffic deaths for the first three months of the year totaled 8,320, four per cent under last year's three-month total of 8,630.

Negro State Senator May Get Post In State Dept.

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Harry A. Cole, first Negro state senator in Maryland's history, may be in line for an executive post in the State Department.

This was disclosed today by U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) who said Cole "made a very favorable impression" during a recent interview in Washington with State Department officials.

Sen. Cole, 36-year-old Republican who represents Baltimore's 4th Legislative District in the General Assembly, said he was "quite interested" and would give any offer which might be extended serious consideration.

There have been reports that Cole might become the first U.S. ambassador to the new African Republic of Ghana. However, his age reportedly would be against such an appointment at this stage of his young political career.

It also was reported that State Department officials are searching around for an executive post in which Cole could be utilized and at the same time receive schooling in international affairs.

Dam Gives Up Body Of Boy, 10

SALISBURY, Md., April 30 (AP)—The body of Ronnie Corry washed through the flood gate of a small dam today a few hours after his parents had left for their New Jersey home.

The 10-year-old youngster had been the object of an intensive search since he disappeared Sunday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Corry of Riverside, N. J., had planned to return here later today to continue the search.

In a desperate bid to find the body, city workers opened the gate of Beaver Dam in Municipal Park to drain the shallow lake. Minutes after it was opened, the boy's body washed down the spillway.

Park Superintendent Milton Ardis said the body must have been lodged against the dam.

Ronnie was last seen playing about 50 feet from the dam. He and his 13-year-old brother, Wallace Jr., went to the park Sunday while the family was visiting here.

Wallace returned saying he had lost Ronnie after going swimming in the stream. Ronnie's shoes and socks were found on the bank.

A search party of 75 to 100 persons had combed every foot of the park and the surrounding area and low-flying airplanes spread out over the nearby farm areas.

The city of Taunton, Mass., is the greatest tack-making center in the world.

Milk Producers Cancel Marketing Order Request

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Maryland milk producers having adjusted prices to a level, satisfactory to themselves, today asked the federal government not to issue a marketing order.

The Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., last July sought a federal milk marketing order "to stabilize" prices in the Baltimore area and improve farm income.

It complained at the time that some dairies were paying from ½ cent to 2 cents less per quart for their milk than other distributors were paying to the cooperative.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture held hearings on the request for a marketing order last winter and took the case under study.

But today, W. P. Sadler, manager of the cooperative which supplies about 80 per cent of the milk sold in the area, said the cooperative had asked the government to suspend action on the case for the time being.

The turnabout, he said, resulted from lengthy negotiations between the farmers, the cooperative which represents them and the dairies. Those who previously were not buying milk from the cooperative or were buying little apparently have decided to become better customers.

A spokesman for the Department of Agriculture in Washington said the formal letter from the cooperative had not been received but he thought it "quite likely" the department would "go along" with the request that it withdraw from the case.

The new negotiations, while improving the farmers' position, may in the long run mean higher prices to the consumer.

"Quite naturally we hope that we have gained for our farmer members—and non-members too—in the way of increased sales of milk at a reasonable price, will be maintained," Sadler said. "Generally speaking our discussions with our dairy friends have been in a friendly atmosphere and we hope to keep them that way."

A spokesman for the cooperative said the average price now being paid farmers in the Baltimore milkshed is $5.50 a hundredweight, or about 11.8 cents a quart.

Regular selected milk delivered to the home in Baltimore is now 25 cents a quart. Homogenized milk sells for 26 cents.

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—March traffic deaths of 2,920 were higher than either January or February and were just the same as those of March, 1956, the National Safety Council reported today.

Traffic deaths for the first three months of the year totaled 8,320, four per cent under last year's three-month total of 8,630.

Negro State Senator May Get Post In State Dept.

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Harry A. Cole, first Negro state senator in Maryland's history, may be in line for an executive post in the State Department.

This was disclosed today by U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) who said Cole "made a very favorable impression" during a recent interview in Washington with State Department officials.

Sen. Cole, 36-year-old Republican who represents Baltimore's 4th Legislative District in the General Assembly, said he was "quite interested" and would give any offer which might be extended serious consideration.

There have been reports that Cole might become the first U.S. ambassador to the new African Republic of Ghana. However, his age reportedly would be against such an appointment at this stage of his young political career.

It also was reported that State Department officials are searching around for an executive post in which Cole could be utilized and at the same time receive schooling in international affairs.

A Pill That May Be Hard To Take

The wonders of science are all about one, but sometimes they take a lot of getting used to. For centuries the man who swallowed a pill has had a certain feeling of finality. It might make him feel better, it might make him worse, or it might have no effect at all. But at least the pill wouldn't return to heckle him.

Now there are to be pills of another color—pills that enter a man's innards as kibitzers and fairly vibrate with critical comments on what they see there. They will mean well, of course, but some persons may have trouble getting rid of a superstitious sense of being possessed by an unduly familiar spirit.

These pills, about an inch long, will contain a miniature FM radio transmitter. After they have been swallowed, they will set out on a leisurely tour of the alimentary tract. Throughout the trip, they will broadcast on a modulated radio-frequency wave a running sightseer's spiel. If circumstances call for it, they can become guided missiles, steered by magnets manipulated by a doctor.

So another new scientific marvel has been created, thanks to Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin and Dr. John T. Farrar, who cautiously refuse to predict just what their new diagnostic tool may accomplish. In due course, no doubt, it will be tried on many patients and the results recorded in medical journals.

And another generation may feel no qualms about swallowing a pill that talks back to it. Why should it? Its purpose, after all, is humanitarian and benevolent. Only the most hidebound of old fogies would think of suggesting that a properly trained pill should be swallowed and not heard.

Alger Hiss' Book

Alger Hiss has written a book about himself and his ordeal which is to be published on May 7, when it will be reviewed in this column as in many others. Meanwhile, I have received a most unusual letter from "The Bookmailer," Box 101, Murray Hill Station, New York 16, N. Y. I repeat the contents of the letter:

"Alger Hiss' book 'Court of Public Opinion'—$5.00, will be published on May 7.

"To insure that readers of the Hiss book will have a proper court of public opinion, and know both sides of the story, we are going to give a copy of Whittaker Chambers' book 'Witness' to every person who buys a copy of the Hiss book from The Bookmailer.

"As always—The Bookmailer will pay the postage, anywhere in the world. And anyone who sends $5.00 to The Bookmailer for 'Court of Public Opinion' will receive Whittaker Chambers' 'Witness' absolutely free.

"We will appreciate it if you will tell your audience of this offer.

Lyle H. Munson"

I do not understand how Lyle Munson can afford to give two books for one, but I do know Lyle Munson and if he says that he will do it, I am sure that he will.

The Alger Hiss case was one of perjury. The only issue was who was telling the truth. Involved were Whittaker Chambers, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Richard Nixon, Karl Mundt, the FBI and Alger Hiss. Two trials were held and there were several usual appeals but Hiss went to prison and served his sentence and is now a free man.

I cannot review his book until May 7 without breaking the release date. But Lyle Munson's offer fascinated me because actually, it is necessary to contrast Whittaker Chambers' statement of the case with Alger Hiss', and had the government accepted responsibility for its knowledge of the matter in 1939 when it was first encountered, it might have tried them both and jointly and perhaps then there would have been no doubt as to the guilt of either or both.

Espionage is an ugly business and an ugly charge to make against any man. Yet Marxism, as a religious movement absorbing the lives of its votaries, has consistently expected them to place party above family, nation and traditional morals. In the eyes of a Communist Party member whatever is done for the Party is ipso facto right, even at a great sacrifice, because the Party will ultimately bring to the world a new civilization and a different kind of brotherhood of man, one in which there will be no racial, religious or national distinctions and in which the rewards will go to those who need them.

It is a pretty ideal, old as the world but repackaged in 1848 as a protest against an emerging capitalism which, in its Nineteenth Century manifestations, was very ugly. It then offered no greater hopes than are being satisfied in a city like Detroit today.

The Russians have been able to harness this idealistic manifestation in every country, thus utilizing native sons as Russian agents who really believed that they were nothing of the sort; they regarded themselves as saviours of mankind from the horrors of nationalism, traditional religion, bourgeois morality and capitalism. In the 1930's, this seemed to stimulate many competent and adroit young minds; in the 1950's it is an exploded fashion which no longer attracts young people. In the 1930's the tendency was universal and gave Soviet Russia a power in international affairs which reached its peak at Yalta where Stalin sat with Roosevelt and Churchill, knowing that both had been betrayed to him.

In 1957, the situation is very different and the proof of the difference is that Soviet Russia is forced to employ its own citizens in espionage work. These people come not only as diplomats, but also as technical experts. They are not very good at the job. The cloven hoof is too readily exposed.

Idealistic youth has turned to other causes, the most universal of which is intensified nationalism in every country except the United States. In the Middle Eastern countries, nationalism has taken on a religious and uncompromising force and has already produced a number of small wars. It could produce a great war. In the United States, idealistic youth speaks vaguely of our world responsibilities, which do not seem to apply yet.

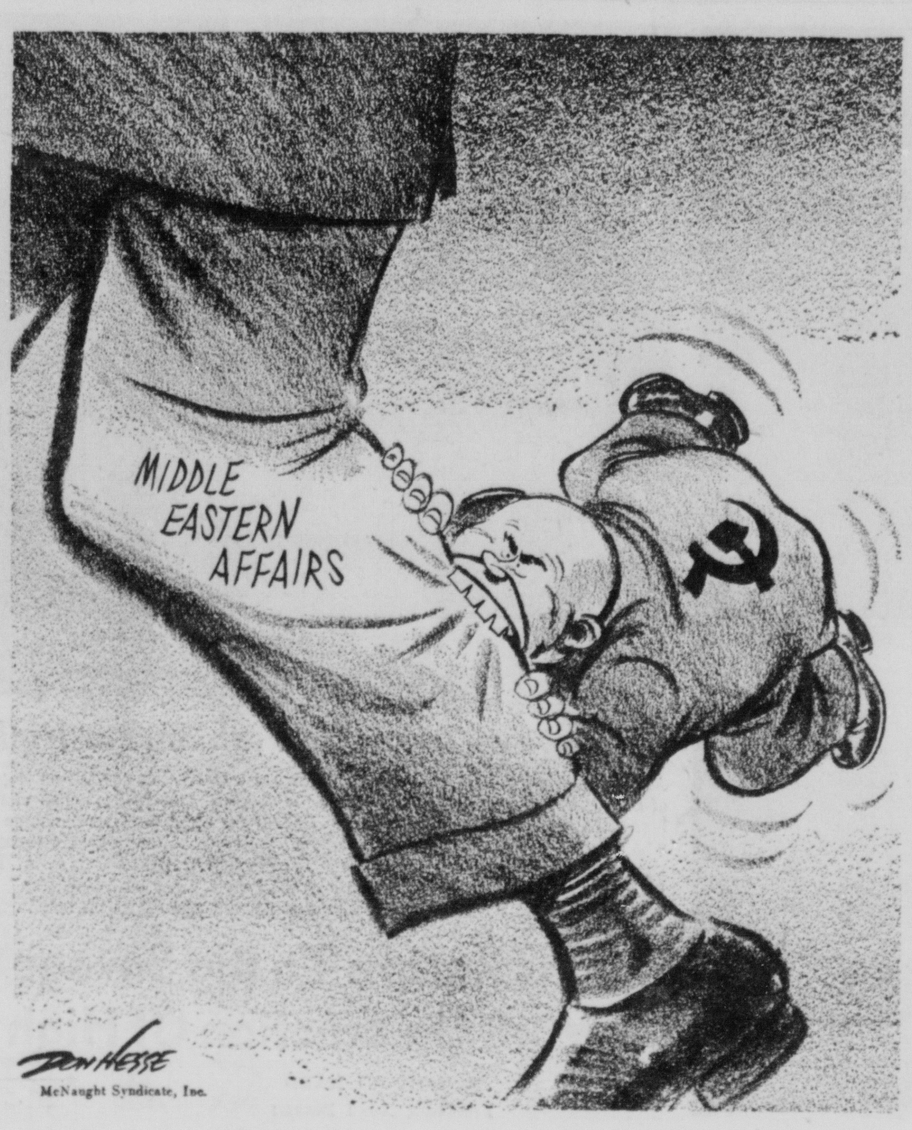
Keeping Things In An Uproar



Russia Hopes To Arouse Anti-U.S. Sentiment In Russia Over Canal

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It's being hushed up, but CIA Director Allen Dulles has warned that the Russians have launched a big propaganda campaign to convince Panama to follow Egypt's Suez lead and seize the Panama Canal. Allen, able younger brother of the Secretary of State, believes this may produce a big crisis right in our own side-yard.

Unlike the Suez Canal, the Panama Canal runs through territory the United States Government bought and paid for many years ago. But this doesn't faze the Russians. They are telling the Panamanians they have a right to revoke the sale, and could then get rich on canal tolls.

Chiang Kai-Shek Protests

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has sent a frantic message to President Eisenhower, pleading that he not allow American reporters to visit Red China.

The cable followed on the heels of Dulle's revelation that he is ready to lift the travel ban which has been keeping newsmen away.

Chiang warned that visits by reporters would be disastrous to his prestige in the Far East.

Nasser Plot Reversed

It will never be admitted, but the British plot to kill Dictator Nasser has been quietly reversed. British operatives in Egypt are now under orders, ironically, to keep Nasser alive at all costs.

Reason is that the British now believe Nasser's likely successor would be more dangerous than the wily dictator himself Nasser has surrounded himself with so many Communist sympathizers that the Reds would probably take over Egypt completely in case of his demise.

U. S. agents were aware of the original British assassination plot—which may seem like a drastic solution to the Egyptian problem, but it's the way politics are played in the intrigue-ridden Middle East. U. S. Agents also report that the British changed signals after concluding the assassination strategy would boomerang.

They figured the Reds would make a martyr of Nasser, using his death to stir up Arab emotions and take over the government. Nasser's probable successor would be Lt. Col. Zakaria Mohi El-Din, now minister of Interior, who controls the secret police. Absolutely ruthless, he is considered a Moscow stooge.

Next most powerful person in the Egyption government is Minister of Education. Kamel Ad-Din Husein, another follower of the Moscow line, who also commands the so-called "National Liberation Army." As an example of his brand of "education," he recently called on Egyptian students to hate the Western "enemy."

"Smash him, kill him, exterminate him!" cried Husein. "Every compatriot, every youth, every old man must remember that the first factor for destroying our enemy is to hate him, to hold him in contempt, and to fill our hearts with rage and hatred against him."

It is significant that the Communist technique for infiltrating a country is to gain control first, of the secret police, then the educational system.

Ike's Ex-Aide

The backstage story that has been intriguing Washington society for weeks now seems on the way to settlement. It's the alimony dispute between Ike's former naval aide, Capt. Harry Butcher, and his former wife, which was scheduled to involve Mrs. Eisenhower as a witness.

Captain Butcher, a popular figure around Washington for many years, where he was the first representative of CBS, served as wartime naval aide to the now President of the United States. While their husbands were abroad, Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Butcher shared the same apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

After the war, Butcher wrote the best-selling book, "My Three Years with Eisenhower." And having long been separated from his wife, divorced her in the spring of 1946, married Mary Margaret Ford May 7, 1946, and went to live in Santa Barbara, Calf., where he now owns and operates Radio-TV Station KEYT.

By a property settlement made March 20, 1946, Harry was to pay his first wife $1,500 a month for life or until remarriage. She now claims, in a suit for alimony filed in the U. S. District Court in the District of Columbia, that this was reduced by verbal agreement in September 1951 to $750 a month on condition that payments be made regularly on the first of the month.

However, Mrs. Butcher now alleges that payments lagged behind. She asks that the old agreement be reinstated, and claims back payments of $41,850—$4,050 for 1953, and $37,800 for 1953-56, during which only $600 a month was paid.

Mrs. Butcher has continued to be a good friend of Mrs. Eisenhower and is a frequent caller at the White House. Butcher's attorney's were reported planning to call Mamie as a witness to show that his former wife had lived on less than $750 a month when they were married and that he was supporting her in better circumstances now than then.

However, Butcher, reached in Santa Barbara, said that a property settlement was under discussion and a compromise certain to be reached. There are sighs of relief around the White House, but sighs of disappointment around Washington society.

Washington Pipeline

Congressmen aren't happy about it, but Congressman Clare Hoffman's proposal to abolish income taxes is now drawing more mail on Capitol Hill than any other measure. The House Judiciary Committee is receiving over 500 letters a day demanding hearings on Hoffman's bill. No hearings will be held.... Budget pruners have hit the National Arboretum, the nation's outdoor "tree museum," so badly that it had to appeal to Boy Scouts to clear the fire break. The Aboretum which depends on Congress for money to study and preserve trees on its 300-acre grounds, is now strapped.

Dulles Offers New Hope For Righteous Cause

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The world knows today that the United States intends to give no quarter to international Communism but will resort only to moral force to win back to freedom's side the dozen nations which "the men in the Kremlin stole, one by one."

But, if any military attack should come from the Soviets in the meantime, "mobile retaliatory power" will be used by the free world to defend itself. Mr. Dulles warns in his latest address that this envisages atomic weapons in local wars, too, where the "mobile striking power" of land, sea and air forces will be employed.

But the emphasis by Mr. Dulles was on the real battle. It's the battle for men's minds which when won can overthrow dictators. The Secretary gave a succinct exposition of the way moral force can be applied in the world today. In what is perhaps the most significant passage in his speech, Mr. Dulles says:

"Let us provide an example which demonstrates the blessings of liberty. Let us spread knowledge of that around the world. Let us see to it that the divided or captive nations know that they are not forgotten, that we shall never make a political settlement at their expense; and that a heartfelt welcome and new opportunity await them as they gain more freedom.

"Let us also make apparent to the Soviet rulers our real purpose. We condemn and oppose imperialism. We seek the liberation of the captive nations. We seek this, however, not in order to encircle Russia with hostile forces, but because peace is in jeopardy and freedom a word of mockery until the divided nations are reunited and the captive nations are set free.

"We revere and honor those who as martyrs gave their blood for freedom. But we do not ourselves incite violent revolt. Rather we encourage an evolution to freedom."

The Secretary of State pointedly reminded his hearers that the "Voice of America," our information programs and cultural exchanges do spread throughout the world "knowledge of what freedom is and does."

Is there progress on the moral force front? Mr. Dulles thinks so and says "events of the past year indicate that the pressures of liberty are rising." He adds:

"Within the Soviet Union there is increasing demand for greater personal security, for greater intellectual freedom and for greater enjoyment of the fruits of labor . . . The satellite countries no longer provide a submissive source of Soviet strength. Indeed Soviet strength, both military and economic, has now to be expended to repress those who openly show their revulsion against Soviet rule."

As for the Middle East, Mr. Dulles argues for moral suasion there, too. He counsels against impatience and impulsive action. He says that when passions run high the task is hard and that "the only durable solution is one which comes by patiently, resolutely and resourcefully seeking justice and the rule of law."

This means that while recognizing some of the limitations of the United Nations, this country still has faith in the mediating processes of that organization and the opportunities it provides to resolve legal controversies in special courts that are set up for that purpose.

While the Secretary of State stressed the importance of "finding ways of peaceful change," this doesn't mean appeasement. He said on this point:

"Our foreign policy accepts change as the law of life. We seek to assure that change will be benign, and not destructive, so that it will promote not merely survival but freedom and well-being."

This certainly doesn't mean that the enslaved people of that country are any different from any other captive peoples and must be condemned to remain under the rule of dictatorship. Nor does it mean that the United States will demand a complete severance of ties with Soviet Russia before furnishing economic aid to the people in satellite countries in Eastern Europe.

The essence of American foreign policy, as Mr. Dulles outlines it, is that no "political settlements" will be made which recognize the results of aggression. He would follow the American concept of past history which he declares has always reflected a desire "to stimulate liberating forces throughout the world and create a climate in which despotism would shrink."

The address which Mr. Dulles delivered in New York City before the members of the Associated Press was approved in advance by President Eisenhower. It is a brilliant and inspiring statement which will satisfy all except those who are more politically partisan than American and those newspapers abroad which still are aggrieved that the United States didn't join Britain and France in making war on Egypt last October. Indeed, the Dulles speech is a pronouncement of the hopes and aspirations of a free people who still rely on military force to deter an aggressor and moral force to win the support of peoples everywhere. By concerted will an enslaved people can at any moment rid themselves of despotism. For the biggest armies dissolve and refuse to kill their brethren when the people rise up in a righteous cause.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

May the First in New York was the ordained outdoor date for the early Communists to chop, skip and thump.

Charley Chapin of The World took me off baseball and sent me up to Fourteenth Street to cover the Olumpiad.

The Commies' opponents in Union Square were the New York Mounted Police. The Commies stuck pins in the coppers' hosses. Not to be outdone in Oriental courtesy the Fuzz banged them over the noggins with ten cents worth of hard lumber.

I named this unequal contest Union Square Polo. It was as one-sided as the Duchess of Gainsborough's hat.

We didn't know back in 1917 that the Union Square elimination contest was presided over by a waiter in a Fourteenth Street chew and choke.

This waiter was to cross Germany in a sealed vagon lit, start the revolution in Moscow, get evicted by Stalin and finally get the esprit de corpse in Mexico City.

His name was Leon Trotsky. And the guy who bumped him off is still playing checkers with his nose in a grilled cell door.

Trotsky should have stayed indoors. He got his lumps when he gave 'em curb service.

New Remedies Available To Relieve Pruritus

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Pruritus ani is a miserable ailment and the victim may grin and bear it because he is too embarrassed to complain. There is no sense in prudishness of this kind, as rectal itching is common and various new remedies are available for relief.

To determine the cause, a thorough examination is needed. Among the possibilities are rectal infection which may lead to a discharge that is responsible for itching at the opening. Unless the lesion is eliminated, the symptom will persist. In other instances the origin is dermatitis (inflammation of the skin) irritation from the underwear, or allergy to food or medications.

The cause-effect relationship is not always clear. Many persons have tried a dozen or more patent medicines and became sensitized to certain ingredients that are common to most of these preparations. As a result, the salve is responsible for itching, rather than the original factor.

The examination is negative in many victims. When this occurs the physician delves into the diet and makes suggestions about cleanliness. The sufferer is warned to avoid alcohol, tea, coffee, and highly seasoned foods because they intensify the condition. The diet should be well balanced and abundant in all vitamins, including the B complex group.

Now and then lack of acid in the stomach affects the digestion of certain foods and leads to rectal itching. When hydrochloric acid is administered, discomfort subsides. Soap irritates membranes in this area and careful rinsing is necessary after bath or shower. Dry tissue paper aggravates the lesion and overnight cures have followed the substitution of moist cotton for toilet tissue.

Anal itching is rife in the nervous and psychoneurotic and these people are helped by the tranquilizers. Among the newer ointments are those containing antihistaminic drugs, cortison, ACTH, or prednisolone. A salve with sodium caprylate and sodium propionate was effective in 100 patients whose distress stemmed from dryness, fungal infection, or the use of antibiotics.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

The "John Sedges" who wrote "The Townsman" was, in private life, Pearl Buck. "Nicholas Blake," who writes detective fiction, is the distinguished poet, Cecil Day-Lewis, not the first to discover that crime pays better than poetry. "Tom Graham," who wrote one of the first boys' books about flying machines, later won the Nobel Prize as Sinclair Lewis. John Galsworthy's first four books bore the author's name of John Sinjohn. "Nancy Boyd" was Edna St. Vincent Millay. The real name of the author of "Nineteen Eighty-Four" was Eric Arthur Blair—not George Orwell.

The reasons for writers attempting to disguise their identies vary widely. In some cases, as noted, two authors pretend to be—one—or, contraiwise, insinuate they are three. Men pretend to be women—and women, men.

One writer had a very practical reason for dissembling: he was married to two women at the same time—and both of them were trying to track him down!

A Pill That May Be Hard To Take

The wonders of science are all about one, but sometimes they take a lot of getting used to. For centuries the man who swallowed a pill has had a certain feeling of finality. It might make him feel better, it might make him worse, or it might have no effect at all. But at least the pill wouldn't return to heckle him.

Now there are to be pills of another color—pills that enter a man's innards as kibitzers and fairly vibrate with critical comments on what they see there. They will mean well, of course, but some persons may have trouble getting rid of a superstitious sense of being possessed by an unduly familiar spirit.

These pills, about an inch long, will contain a miniature FM radio transmitter. After they have been swallowed, they will set out on a leisurely tour of the alimentary tract. Throughout the trip, they will broadcast on a modulated radio-frequency wave a running sightseer's spiel. If circumstances call for it, they can become guided missiles, steered by magnets manipulated by a doctor.

So another new scientific marvel has been created, thanks to Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin and Dr. John T. Farrar, who cautiously refuse to predict just what their new diagnostic tool may accomplish. In due course, no doubt, it will be tried on many patients and the results recorded in medical journals.

And another generation may feel no qualms about swallowing a pill that talks back to it. Why should it? Its purpose, after all, is humanitarian and benevolent. Only the most hidebound of old fogies would think of suggesting that a properly trained pill should be swallowed and not heard.

These Days

Alger Hiss' Book

Alger Hiss has written a book about himself and his ordeal which is to be published on May 7, when it will be reviewed in this column as in many others. Meanwhile, I have received a most unusual letter from "The Bookmailer," Box 101, Murray Hill Station, New York 16, N. Y. I repeat the contents of the letter:

"Alger Hiss' book 'Court of Public Opinion'—$5.00, will be published on May 7.

"To insure that readers of the Hiss book will have a proper court of public opinion, and know both sides of the story, we are going to give a copy of Whittaker Chambers' book 'Witness' to every person who buys a copy of the Hiss book from The Bookmailer.

"As always—The Bookmailer will pay the postage, anywhere in the world. And anyone who sends $5.00 to The Bookmailer for 'Court of Public Opinion' will receive Whittaker Chambers' 'Witness' absolutely free.

"We will appreciate it if you will tell your audience of this offer.

Lyle H. Munson"

I do not understand how Lyle Munson can afford to give two books for one, but I do know Lyle Munson and if he says that he will do it, I am sure that he will.

The Alger Hiss case was one of perjury. The only issue was who was telling the truth. Involved were Whittaker Chambers, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Richard Nixon, Karl Mundt, the FBI and Alger Hiss. Two trials were held and there were several usual appeals but Hiss went to prison and served his sentence and is now a free man.

I cannot review his book until May 7 without breaking the release date. But Lyle Munson's offer fascinated me because actually, it is necessary to contrast Whittaker Chambers' statement of the case with Alger Hiss', and had the government accepted responsibility for its knowledge of the matter in 1939 when it was first encountered, it might have tried them both and jointly and perhaps then there would have been no doubt as to the guilt of either or both.

Espionage is an ugly business and an ugly charge to make against any man. Yet Marxism, as a religious movement absorbing the lives of its votaries, has consistently expected them to place party above family, nation and traditional morals. In the eyes of a Communist Party member whatever is done for the Party is ipso facto right, even at a great sacrifice, because the Party will ultimately bring to the world a new civilization and a different kind of brotherhood of man, one in which there will be no racial, religious or national distinctions and in which the rewards will go to those who need them.

It is a pretty ideal, old as the world but repackaged in 1848 as a protest against an emerging capitalism which, in its Nineteenth Century manifestations, was very ugly. It then offered no greater hopes than are being satisfied in a city like Detroit today.

The Russians have been able to harness this idealistic manifestation in every country, thus utilizing native sons as Russian agents who really believed that they were nothing of the sort; they regarded themselves as saviours of mankind from the horrors of nationalism, traditional religion, bourgeois morality and capitalism. In the 1930's, this seemed to stimulate many competent and adroit young minds; in the 1950's it is an exploded fashion which no longer attracts young people. In the 1930's the tendency was universal and gave Soviet Russia a power in international affairs which reached its peak at Yalta where Stalin sat with Roosevelt and Churchill, knowing that both had been betrayed to him.

In 1957, the situation is very different and the proof of the difference is that Soviet Russia is forced to employ its own citizens in espionage work. These people come not only as diplomats, but also as technical experts. They are not very good at the job. The cloven hoof is too readily exposed.

Idealistic youth has turned to other causes, the most universal of which is intensified nationalism in every country except the United States. In the Middle Eastern countries, nationalism has taken on a religious and uncompromising force and has already produced a number of small wars. It could produce a great war. In the United States, idealistic youth speaks vaguely of our world responsibilities, which do not seem to apply yet.

Keeping Things In An Uproar

Dulles Offers New Hope For Righteous Cause

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The world knows today that the United States intends to give no quarter to international Communism but will resort only to moral force to win back to freedom's side the dozen nations which "the men in the Kremlin stole, one by one."

But, if any military attack should come from the Soviets in the meantime, "mobile retaliatory power" will be used by the free world to defend itself. Mr. Dulles warns in his latest address that this envisages atomic weapons in local wars, too, where the "mobile striking power" of land, sea and air forces will be employed.

But the emphasis by Mr. Dulles was on the real battle. It's the battle for men's minds which when won can overthrow dictators. The Secretary gave a succinct exposition of the way moral force can be applied in the world today. In what is perhaps the most significant passage in his speech, Mr. Dulles says:

"Let us provide an example which demonstrates the blessings of liberty. Let us spread knowledge of that around the world. Let us see to it that the divided or captive nations know that they are not forgotten, that we shall never make a political settlement at their expense; and that a heartfelt welcome and new opportunity await them as they gain more freedom.

"Let us also make apparent to the Soviet rulers our real purpose. We condemn and oppose imperialism. We seek the liberation of the captive nations. We seek this, however, not in order to encircle Russia with hostile forces, but because peace is in jeopardy and freedom a word of mockery until the divided nations are reunited and the captive nations are set free.

"We revere and honor those who as martyrs gave their blood for freedom. But we do not ourselves incite violent revolt. Rather we encourage an evolution to freedom."

The Secretary of State pointedly reminded his hearers that the "Voice of America," our information programs and cultural exchanges do spread throughout the world "knowledge of what freedom is and does."

Is there progress on the moral force front? Mr. Dulles thinks so and says "events of the past year indicate that the pressures of liberty are rising." He adds:

"Within the Soviet Union there is increasing demand for greater personal security, for greater intellectual freedom and for greater enjoyment of the fruits of labor . . . The satellite countries no longer provide a submissive source of Soviet strength. Indeed Soviet strength, both military and economic, has now to be expended to repress those who openly show their revulsion against Soviet rule."

As for the Middle East, Mr. Dulles argues for moral suasion there, too. He counsels against impatience and impulsive action. He says that when passions run high the task is hard and that "the only durable solution is one which comes by patiently, resolutely and resourcefully seeking justice and the rule of law."

This means that while recognizing some of the limitations of the United Nations, this country still has faith in the mediating processes of that organization and the opportunities it provides to resolve legal controversies in special courts that are set up for that purpose.

While the Secretary of State stressed the importance of "finding ways of peaceful change," this doesn't mean appeasement. He said on this point:

"Our foreign policy accepts change as the law of life. We seek to assure that change will be benign, and not destructive, so that it will promote not merely survival but freedom and well-being."

This certainly doesn't mean that the enslaved people of that country are any different from any other captive peoples and must be condemned to remain under the rule of dictatorship. Nor does it mean that the United States will demand a complete severance of ties with Soviet Russia before furnishing economic aid to the people in satellite countries in Eastern Europe.

The essence of American foreign policy, as Mr. Dulles outlines it, is that no "political settlements" will be made which recognize the results of aggression. He would follow the American concept of past history which he declares has always reflected a desire "to stimulate liberating forces throughout the world and create a climate in which despotism would shrink."

The address which Mr. Dulles delivered in New York City before the members of the Associated Press was approved in advance by President Eisenhower. It is a brilliant and inspiring statement which will satisfy all except those who are more politically partisan than American and those newspapers abroad which still are aggrieved that the United States didn't join Britain and France in making war on Egypt last October. Indeed, the Dulles speech is a pronouncement of the hopes and aspirations of a free people who still rely on military force to deter an aggressor and moral force to win the support of peoples everywhere. By concerted will an enslaved people can at any moment rid themselves of despotism. For the biggest armies dissolve and refuse to kill their brethren when the people rise up in a righteous cause.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

May the First in New York was the ordained outdoor date for the early Communists to chop, skip and thump.

Charley Chapin of The World took me off baseball and sent me up to Fourteenth Street to cover the Olumpiad.

The Commies' opponents in Union Square were the New York Mounted Police. The Commies stuck pins in the coppers' hosses. Not to be outdone in Oriental courtesy the Fuzz banged them over the noggins with ten cents worth of hard lumber.

I named this unequal contest Union Square Polo. It was as one-sided as the Duchess of Gainsborough's hat.

We didn't know back in 1917 that the Union Square elimination contest was presided over by a waiter in a Fourteenth Street chew and choke.

This waiter was to cross Germany in a sealed vagon lit, start the revolution in Moscow, get evicted by Stalin and finally get the esprit de corpse in Mexico City.

His name was Leon Trotsky. And the guy who bumped him off is still playing checkers with his nose in a grilled cell door.

Trotsky should have stayed indoors. He got his lumps when he gave 'em curb service.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Pruritus ani is a miserable ailment and the victim may grin and bear it because he is too embarrassed to complain. There is no sense in prudishness of this kind, as rectal itching is common and various new remedies are available for relief.

To determine the cause, a thorough examination is needed. Among the possibilities are rectal infection which may lead to a discharge that is responsible for itching at the opening. Unless the lesion is eliminated, the symptom will persist. In other instances the origin is dermatitis (inflammation of the skin) irritation from the underwear, or allergy to food or medications.

The cause-effect relationship is not always clear. Many persons have tried a dozen or more patent medicines and became sensitized to certain ingredients that are common to most of these preparations. As a result, the salve is responsible for itching, rather than the original factor.

The examination is negative in many victims. When this occurs the physician delves into the diet and makes suggestions about cleanliness. The sufferer is warned to avoid alcohol, tea, coffee, and highly seasoned foods because they intensify the condition. The diet should be well balanced and abundant in all vitamins, including the B complex group.

Now and then lack of acid in the stomach affects the digestion of certain foods and leads to rectal itching. When hydrochloric acid is administered, discomfort subsides. Soap irritates membranes in this area and careful rinsing is necessary after bath or shower. Dry tissue paper aggravates the lesion and overnight cures have followed the substitution of moist cotton for toilet tissue.

Anal itching is rife in the nervous and psychoneurotic and these people are helped by the tranquilizers. Among the newer ointments are those containing antihistaminic drugs, cortison, ACTH, or prednisolone. A salve with sodium caprylate and sodium propionate was effective in 100 patients whose distress stemmed from dryness, fungal infection, or the use of antibiotics.

Russia Hopes To Arouse Anti-U.S. Sentiment In Russia Over Canal

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It's being hushed up, but CIA Director Allen Dulles has warned that the Russians have launched a big propaganda campaign to convince Panama to follow Egypt's Suez lead and seize the Panama Canal. Allen, able younger brother of the Secretary of State, believes this may produce a big crisis right in our own side-yard.

Unlike the Suez Canal, the Panama Canal runs through territory the United States Government bought and paid for many years ago. But this doesn't faze the Russians. They are telling the Panamanians they have a right to revoke the sale, and could then get rich on canal tolls.

Chiang Kai-Shek Protests

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has sent a frantic message to President Eisenhower, pleading that he not allow American reporters to visit Red China.

The cable followed on the heels of Dulle's revelation that he is ready to lift the travel ban which has been keeping newsmen away.

Chiang warned that visits by reporters would be disastrous to his prestige in the Far East.

Nasser Plot Reversed

It will never be admitted, but the British plot to kill Dictator Nasser has been quietly reversed. British operatives in Egypt are now under orders, ironically, to keep Nasser alive at all costs.

Reason is that the British now believe Nasser's likely successor would be more dangerous than the wily dictator himself Nasser has surrounded himself with so many Communist sympathizers that the Reds would probably take over Egypt completely in case of his demise.

U. S. agents were aware of the original British assassination plot—which may seem like a drastic solution to the Egyptian problem, but it's the way politics are played in the intrigue-ridden Middle East. U. S. Agents also report that the British changed signals after concluding the assassination strategy would boomerang.

They figured the Reds would make a martyr of Nasser, using his death to stir up Arab emotions and take over the government. Nasser's probable successor would be Lt. Col. Zakaria Mohi El-Din, now minister of Interior, who controls the secret police. Absolutely ruthless, he is considered a Moscow stooge.

Next most powerful person in the Egyption government is Minister of Education. Kamel Ad-Din Husein, another follower of the Moscow line, who also commands the so-called "National Liberation Army." As an example of his brand of "education," he recently called on Egyptian students to hate the Western "enemy."

"Smash him, kill him, exterminate him!" cried Husein. "Every compatriot, every youth, every old man must remember that the first factor for destroying our enemy is to hate him, to hold him in contempt, and to fill our hearts with rage and hatred against him."

It is significant that the Communist technique for infiltrating a country is to gain control first, of the secret police, then the educational system.

Ike's Ex-Aide

The backstage story that has been intriguing Washington society for weeks now seems on the way to settlement. It's the alimony dispute between Ike's former naval aide, Capt. Harry Butcher, and his former wife, which was scheduled to involve Mrs. Eisenhower as a witness.

Captain Butcher, a popular figure around Washington for many years, where he was the first representative of CBS, served as wartime naval aide to the now President of the United States. While their husbands were abroad, Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Butcher shared the same apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

After the war, Butcher wrote the best-selling book, "My Three Years with Eisenhower." And having long been separated from his wife, divorced her in the spring of 1946, married Mary Margaret Ford May 7, 1946, and went to live in Santa Barbara, Calf., where he now owns and operates Radio-TV Station KEYT.

By a property settlement made March 20, 1946, Harry was to pay his first wife $1,500 a month for life or until remarriage. She now claims, in a suit for alimony filed in the U. S. District Court in the District of Columbia, that this was reduced by verbal agreement in September 1951 to $750 a month on condition that payments be made regularly on the first of the month.

However, Mrs. Butcher now alleges that payments lagged behind. She asks that the old agreement be reinstated, and claims back payments of $41,850—$4,050 for 1953, and $37,800 for 1953-56, during which only $600 a month was paid.

Mrs. Butcher has continued to be a good friend of Mrs. Eisenhower and is a frequent caller at the White House. Butcher's attorney's were reported planning to call Mamie as a witness to show that his former wife had lived on less than $750 a month when they were married and that he was supporting her in better circumstances now than then.

However, Butcher, reached in Santa Barbara, said that a property settlement was under discussion and a compromise certain to be reached. There are sighs of relief around the White House, but sighs of disappointment around Washington society.

Washington Pipeline

Congressmen aren't happy about it, but Congressman Clare Hoffman's proposal to abolish income taxes is now drawing more mail on Capitol Hill than any other measure. The House Judiciary Committee is receiving over 500 letters a day demanding hearings on Hoffman's bill. No hearings will be held . . . Budget pruners have hit the National Arboretum, the nation's outdoor "tree museum," so badly that it had to appeal to Boy Scouts to clear the fire break. The Aboretum which depends on Congress for money to study and preserve trees on its 300-acre grounds, is now strapped.

Frostburg News Bureau

FROSTBURG—One of the last places a person of Western Maryland would expect to find an American Indian today would be at the 150-foot level of a tower under construction on Big Savage Mountain three miles west of Frostburg.

This week when a NEWS reporter was checking on construction of the AT and T microwave tower there, he found that the Indians had again moved back onto "Big Savage," the mountain so named because it remained a strong hold for the "savages" in the early days of "Fort Cumberland."

Three men of the crew working on the tower, under direction of Paul Loye, tower superintendent, are Reuben Palmer from Fort Gibson, Okla., and A. A. Bennett from Gore, Okla., both Cherokee Indians and John Taber from Durant, Okla., a Blackfoot Indian.

These men have been making their living in "high iron" for years, Bennett, five, Palmer, seven, and Taber, 26.

When questioned concerning heights worked, all stated they had worked on television or other towers of over 1,000 feet, the highest being over 1,500 feet, or almost one-third of a mile.

This particular crew, closely knit together as a team, said they preferred tower jobs to buildings because of the smaller number of men working together at one time.

Taber, the unquestioned leader, stated that by keeping together in a small crew they created an atmosphere of "security", each one looking out for the others off the job as well as on the job.

All of the three are veterans of World War II, Taber having been shot down in a bomber over Berlin. He bailed out from his crippled plane after having one of his legs shot off. He said he received excellent care in the German hospitals.

A parallel could be drawn between these men and those who raised the frame for the United Nations building in New York City. Those men were Mohawk Indians who live together in a closely knit borough in Brooklyn and who, for the past 75 years have followed this extremely hazardous profession due to their complete lack of fear of dizzying heights.

The tower on Big Savage is expected to be completed next week and will have microwave antennas atop the 200-foot level.

Microwave is being used today to transmit television and other communications rapidly and economically over long distance with a minimum of interference from weather and other conditions which exist when messages are carried by a network of wires.

At a special meeting of the City Council Monday evening, it was ordered that Ormond Ledlow, city clerk, deposit the amount received in the First National Bank in the City Hall Building Fund. It also was voted that the expenses of $76.52 incurred be paid to Donald Hott, an attorney of Keyser, for his legal fees.

The two story brick building which is situated on Ashfield, Third and Green streets contained storerooms occupied by Arthur Peters, Joseph Dick, Piedmont Library, city clerk's office and the town jail.

Last fall the city clerk's office was moved to the old Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Station in the rear of Second Street which the town purchased from the Western Maryland Railway Company which acquired it from the former company. Microwave Tower No Problem For High Iron Men

At the left is a partially completed microwave tower being erected on Big Savage Mountain, west of Frostburg, as one of a series across the country. The tower, when completed will be 200 feet high with microwave antennas on the top. In the picture above are some of the "high iron" men who are working on this job. At the left is Paul Loye, tower superintendent. The others left to right are John Taber, a Blackfoot Indian; Reuben Palmer, and A. A. Bennett, both Cherokee Indians. These Indians say that many of their race work on "high iron" because for some reason, they are not troubled by the dizziness usually attached with height.

GAME TODAY
Flintstone at LaSalle.

Allegany, Fort Hill and Valley emerged victorious in extra inning battles yesterday in the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League.

Fort Hill's Sentinels made it 4-0 in the league by edging the Bruce High Bulldogs in 10 innings at Westernport by the score of 7-5. Allegany drew first blood in the intra-city series by nosing out LaSalle's Explorers in ten frames at Campobello, 10-9, and Valley High's Black Knights were extended eight innings to defeat the Flintstone High Aggies, 4-3. In the third game of the day decided by the margin of a single run, Beall High's Mountaineers won over Mt. Savage by the score of 3-2.

Lease Breaks It Up

Mike Lease rapped a two-bagger over the left field barrier in the bottom of the 10th frame to score Bill Brode with the run that gave Coach Gene Shaw's Campers the decision over LaSalle which suffered its fourth successive setback in the league.

Brode had singled and Ronnie Diehl was intentionally passed before Lease broke up this extra inning thriller. George Hale, who supplanted Gene Cave on the mound in the 7th frame, got credit for the win. The loss was charged to McGreevy.

Kenny Johnson sparked the Camper batting attack with a triple, double and two singles in five official trips. Brode and Lease garnered three hits each. Mullaney accounted for three of LaSalle's nine safeties while "Doc" Richard and "Chaz" Imes had two blows each.

Wolford's Hit Wins

Fort Hill scored two runs in the top of the tenth frame to give Jesse Markley his third straight triumph of the season in a duel with Donnie Wilkinson, Bruce ace.

Jimmy Stinson walked, pilfered second, moved to third on Tom Shaw's sacrifice and scored what proved to be the winning run on Gary Wolford's fourth hit of the game. Walter Hillegas' base wallop drove in the Sentinels' insurance tally.

Bruce loaded the hassocks in the last of the 10th but Ahern forced a runner at the plate and Markley stopped the Bulldogs in their tracks by whiffing Guthrie and Wilkinson for his eleventh and twelfth strikeout victims.

Wilkinson gave up 11 hits, including Wolford's four-for-five and two bingles each by Roy and Hillegas. The Bruce hurler struck out nine.

Error Beats Aggies

Valley High School pushed across two runs in the top of the eighth to eke out a decision over the Flintstone Aggies at Flintstone. It was the second win for the Black Knights against no losses and two tie games.

Muir and Winters, who had drawn walks in the 8th, worked a double steal after two out, and both scored when Preston's hot smash got through Shortstop Heavner.

Ronald "Butch" Young, who relieved Grover Fazenbaker in the third inning, got credit for the victory. Young yielded four hits in six innings and struck out five. Frank Smith, Flintstone twirler, yielded only four hits, and fanned 10 but six errors kept him in hot water throughout the contest.

Johnny Johnson of Valley and Randall Mann and Wayne Boggs of the Aggies garnered two hits each.

Wilson's Triple Wins

"Pete" Wilson's triple to right-center that scored Jimmy Skidmore after two out in the last of the 7th enabled Beall High School to defeat Mt. Savage in the Mountain City. Skidmore had singled before Wilson teed off.

Marshall Winters, who relieved Jim Mallow on the rubber in the sixth inning, received credit for the win. Beall's pitchers limited Mt. Savage to four hits and whiffed eight. Fatkin and Anderson shared four of the eight hits yielded by George Bishields who went the route for the Indians.

Mt. Savage held a 2-1 lead until the last of the 6th when singles by Fatkin, Llewellyn and Anderson knotted the count at 2-all.

Lemon Scores First Victory Over Senators

Hurls Two-Hitter In 5 To 1 Triumph

CLEVELAND, April 30 (AP)—Bob Lemon got his first victory of the season for the Cleveland Indians tonight 5-1 by holding the Washington Nationals to two hits in the eighth inning he hurled and hitting a home run off loser Pedro Ramos. Gene Woodling also homered for the Tribe.

Lemon, who has not finished a game in four starts, needed help from Ray Narleski in the eighth inning tonight after walking two batters.

Woodling's homer in the first and Lemon's in the third gave the Indians a 2-0 lead. The Tribe scored another run in the seventh on singles by Roger Maris and Jim Busby and an error, one of four made by the Senators.

Two more runs scored in the eighth when Bob Avila singled and Woodling doubled him home. Woodling took third on a wild relay by Pete Runnels and scored on a sacrifice fly by Al Smith.

Elmira Fans Go To Game By Boat

ELMIRA, N.Y., April 30 (AP)—Any way to get the fans to the ball park.

The Elmira Pioneers of the New York-Pennsylvania League came up with a new gimmick today—a free boat ride.

A fan waiting to go to the park may catch an 18-foot motorboat from the center of the city to Dunn Park via the Chemung River. Eight trips carried 40 fans to the park last night when Elmira won the opener over Erie, Pa., 11-10.

The boat is provided by Gerry Bolt, an Elmira fan, who does the operating.

John J. McHale Is Named Detroit General Manager

Makes Player Deal After Taking Job

DETROIT, April 30 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today completed their drastic front office realignment by selecting 35-year-old John J. McHale as the club's new general manager.

McHale immediately swung into action, making a deal that will bring outfielder Karl Olson to the Tigers from the Boston Red Sox. Jack Phillips, 36-year-old much-traveled first baseman who had been at bat only once for Detroit this year, will go to the San Francisco Seals, a Red Sox farm club. Earlier in the day, the Red Sox purchased Olson, whom they previously had owned, from the Washington Senators.

A veteran of 16 years in the Tiger organization, nearly half of them behind a desk, the boyish-looking McHale thus becomes the youngest general manager in major league baseball.

Winding up changes that affected seven men over a three-week span, the baseball club also named Harry Sisson executive vice president in charge of all Briggs Stadium operations and chose Charles Gehringer for an advisory role.

"I hope this will keep the front office ou' of the news for awhile," said Board Chairman John E. Fetzer at the news conference called an hour before the Tigers met the New York Yankees.

GAME TODAY
Flintstone at LaSalle.

Allegany, Fort Hill and Valley emerged victorious in extra inning battles yesterday in the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League.

Fort Hill's Sentinels made it 4-0 in the league by edging the Bruce High Bulldogs in 10 innings at Westernport by the score of 7-5. Allegany drew first blood in the intra-city series by nosing out LaSalle's Explorers in ten frames at Campobello, 10-9, and Valley High's Black Knights were extended eight innings to defeat the Flintstone High Aggies, 4-3. In the third game of the day decided by the margin of a single run, Beall High's Mountaineers won over Mt. Savage by the score of 3-2.

Lease Breaks It Up

Mike Lease rapped a two-bagger over the left field barrier in the bottom of the 10th frame to score Bill Brode with the run that gave Coach Gene Shaw's Campers the decision over LaSalle which suffered its fourth successive setback in the league.

Brode had singled and Ronnie Diehl was intentionally passed before Lease broke up this extra inning thriller. George Hale, who supplanted Gene Cave on the mound in the 7th frame, got credit for the win. The loss was charged to McGreevy.

Kenny Johnson sparked the Camper batting attack with a triple, double and two singles in five official trips. Brode and Lease garnered three hits each. Mullaney accounted for three of LaSalle's nine safeties while "Doc" Richard and "Chaz" Imes had two blows each.

Wolford's Hit Wins

Fort Hill scored two runs in the top of the tenth frame to give Jesse Markley his third straight triumph of the season in a duel with Donnie Wilkinson, Bruce ace.

Jimmy Stinson walked, pilfered second, moved to third on Tom Shaw's sacrifice and scored what proved to be the winning run on Gary Wolford's fourth hit of the game. Walter Hillegas' base wallop drove in the Sentinels' insurance tally.

Bruce loaded the hassocks in the last of the 10th but Ahern forced a runner at the plate and Markley stopped the Bulldogs in their tracks by whiffing Guthrie and Wilkinson for his eleventh and twelfth strikeout victims.

Wilkinson gave up 11 hits, including Wolford's four-for-five and two bingles each by Roy and Hillegas. The Bruce hurler struck out nine.

Error Beats Aggies

Valley High School pushed across two runs in the top of the eighth to eke out a decision over the Flintstone Aggies at Flintstone. It was the second win for the Black Knights against no losses and two tie games.

Muir and Winters, who had drawn walks in the 8th, worked a double steal after two out, and both scored when Preston's hot smash got through Shortstop Heavner.

Ronald "Butch" Young, who relieved Grover Fazenbaker in the third inning, got credit for the victory. Young yielded four hits in six innings and struck out five. Frank Smith, Flintstone twirler, yielded only four hits, and fanned 10 but six errors kept him in hot water throughout the contest.

Johnny Johnson of Valley and Randall Mann and Wayne Boggs of the Aggies garnered two hits each.

Wilson's Triple Wins

"Pete" Wilson's triple to right-center that scored Jimmy Skidmore after two out in the last of the 7th enabled Beall High School to defeat Mt. Savage in the Mountain City. Skidmore had singled before Wilson teed off.

Marshall Winters, who relieved Jim Mallow on the rubber in the sixth inning, received credit for the win. Beall's pitchers limited Mt. Savage to four hits and whiffed eight. Fatkin and Anderson shared four of the eight hits yielded by George Bishields who went the route for the Indians.

Mt. Savage held a 2-1 lead until the last of the 6th when singles by Fatkin, Llewellyn and Anderson knotted the count at 2-all.

Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets and Elk Garden High's Elks kept their Potomac Valley Conference records unblemished by scoring their sixth and fifth wins of the season in games played yesterday at Circleville and Romney.

Lester Hyre twirled Coach Johnny Paugh's Moorefield nine to their 28th consecutive conference victory since 1954 when he turned back the Circleville Indians on the latter's field by the score of 5-2. Hyre scattered six safeties, fanned six and made his record 3-0 for the campaign. Donnie Schell and Jim Vetter rapped doubles, the only extra base hits of the game.

Petersburg will play at Moorefield Thursday instead of Friday.

Milavec Wins For Elks

Elk Garden stayed right on the heels of Moorefield and Tommy Milavec tossed a six-hitter to rack up his second win of the season over the winless Romney High Pioneers, 8-1.

Coach Paul Kalbaugh's outfit collected 10 hits, including three by Frank Wilson and a pair of triples by Danny Milavec. Liller, Romney hurler, fanned nine and Milavec struck out seven.

South High of Oakland handed Fort Ashby its 7th consecutive setback at Fort Ashby by the score of 5-3.

The Highlanders were outhit in this one, 11 to 7. Glotfelty got the win and Hershberger was the loser.

Keyser took the measure of Petersburg High's Vikings in Petersburg, 12-8.

"Butch" Ryan, who hurled the last 4⅔ innings, notched his second win of the season against a single loss while Roger Keplinger was the loser.

Bob Shaw smacked a three-run homer for Keyser in the final stanza.

The Elk Garden at Keyser game is scheduled for Thursday instead of Friday.

Lemon Scores First Victory Over Senators

Hurls Two-Hitter In 5 To 1 Triumph

CLEVELAND, April 30 (AP)—Bob Lemon got his first victory of the season for the Cleveland Indians tonight 5-1 by holding the Washington Nationals to two hits in the eighth inning he hurled and hitting a home run off loser Pedro Ramos. Gene Woodling also homered for the Tribe.

Lemon, who has not finished a game in four starts, needed help from Ray Narleski in the eighth inning tonight after walking two batters.

Woodling's homer in the first and Lemon's in the third gave the Indians a 2-0 lead. The Tribe scored another run in the seventh on singles by Roger Maris and Jim Busby and an error, one of four made by the Senators.

Two more runs scored in the eighth when Bob Avila singled and Woodling doubled him home. Woodling took third on a wild relay by Pete Runnels and scored on a sacrifice fly by Al Smith.

Elmira Fans Go To Game By Boat

ELMIRA, N.Y., April 30 (AP)—Any way to get the fans to the ball park.

The Elmira Pioneers of the New York-Pennsylvania League came up with a new gimmick today—a free boat ride.

A fan waiting to go to the park may catch an 18-foot motorboat from the center of the city to Dunn Park via the Chemung River. Eight trips carried 40 fans to the park last night when Elmira won the opener over Erie, Pa., 11-10.

The boat is provided by Gerry Bolt, an Elmira fan, who does the operating.

John J. McHale Is Named Detroit General Manager

Makes Player Deal After Taking Job

DETROIT, April 30 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today completed their drastic front office realignment by selecting 35-year-old John J. McHale as the club's new general manager.

McHale immediately swung into action, making a deal that will bring outfielder Karl Olson to the Tigers from the Boston Red Sox. Jack Phillips, 36-year-old much-traveled first baseman who had been at bat only once for Detroit this year, will go to the San Francisco Seals, a Red Sox farm club. Earlier in the day, the Red Sox purchased Olson, whom they previously had owned, from the Washington Senators.

A veteran of 16 years in the Tiger organization, nearly half of them behind a desk, the boyish-looking McHale thus becomes the youngest general manager in major league baseball.

Winding up changes that affected seven men over a three-week span, the baseball club also named Harry Sisson executive vice president in charge of all Briggs Stadium operations and chose Charles Gehringer for an advisory role.

"I hope this will keep the front office ou' of the news for awhile," said Board Chairman John E. Fetzer at the news conference called an hour before the Tigers met the New York Yankees.

Fullmer Defends Title Against Robinson Tonight

Middleweight Bout Is Set For Chicago

Odds Are Jumping Around; Contest May Draw 12,000

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will try to win the world middleweight title for the fourth time tomorrow night when he meets champion Gene Fullmer in a battle of faded ring skill against the brute strength of confident youth.

Fullmer, a 25-year-old mauler from the Utah copper mines, lifted Robinson's crown by a unanimous decision, Jan. 2 at New York, flooring the Sugar Man and cutting his left eye.

The rematch is expected to draw about 12,000 fans and a gate of about $150,000.

Radio-television receipts of $100,000 will boost the gate to the point where each fighter's cut of 30 per cent of TV and gate should be about $65,000.

Odds Jump Around

Under the pressure of pre-fight ballyhoo, the odds have been jumping around. From an original 8 to 1 on Fullmer you hear quotations of 2 to 1 and sometimes even lower.

Robinson's age is almost as hard to nail down as the price. The ring record books says he will be 37 on Friday but Ray insists he will be 36.

With the exception of Chicago and a 150-mile surrounding area which will be blacked out of the TV picture, the rest of the nation can judge for itself how much Robinson has left. The fight, starting at 9 p.m. (EST) will be seen on network (ABC) TV and also will be heard on radio (ABC), including Chicago.

Both Violated Rules

Alert to charges that Fullmer was guilty of rabbit punching and Robinson of continuous holding in their first bout, the Illinois Athletic Commission has advised referees to penalize the fighters for any violations.

Illinois uses the "five-point must system" of scoring which means the winner of a round gets five points and the loser four and so on down.

Even rounds are 5-5. Two judges and a referee to be named at ringside will hand down the decision.

When Fullmer finished training Saturday, he weighed 158 pounds while Robinson, who continued boxing through Monday, has been staying close to 162. Each expects to come in at 160 pounds "on the nose" at the noon weigh-in tomorrow at the stadium. In the first fight, Fullmer was surprisingly light at 157¼ and Robinson weighed exactly 160, the class limit.

Billy Pierce Scores Third Win Of Season

Chicago White Sox Beat Orioles, 6-1

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — With lefty Billy Pierce back in the groove after being bombed from the mound in his last two starts, the Chicago White Sox today stifled the Baltimore Orioles on six hits to maintain their American League lead with a 6-1 victory.

A dropped ball by second baseman Billy Gardner on an attempted force out in the third inning led to an unearned run that gave the Sox a 2-0 bulge. And after yielding a run in the fifth, the Sox caved in pitcher Ray Moore with four runs in the seventh to nail down their eighth triumph in 10 games.

Pierce boosted his record to 3-1, becoming the first American League hurler of the season to get three victories.

The big seventh would have been bigger had not shortstop Willie Miranda retired the side with a spectacular back-handed stab near third of Sherm Lollar's grounder to throw him out. The defensive gem brought a roar from the 4,470 fans at Comiskey Park.

Moore Scales 211 For Essen Fight

ESSEN, Germany, April 30 (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore warming up for a soon-due title defense, tonight weighed a surprisingly heavy 211 pounds for his non-title 10-rounder with German heavyweight Hans Kalbfell tomorrow.

Kalbfell, a 27-year old Hagen butcher and third ranking German heavyweight, scaled 215.

As Moore was stepping on the scales here, his manager, Charley Johnston, said in New York that the 40-year old champion would "positively" go through with his June 7 title defense against New York's Tony Anthony in Detroit.

This was in answer to a threat today by Floyd Stevens, president of the American NBA, that unless he got definite word from Moore o the Anthony fight by tomorrow, he would declare the title vacant.

Tigers Whip Yankees, 2-1, On Frank Bolling's Homer

Reliefer Bob Grim Is Victim In Ten Inning Contest

DETROIT, April 30 (AP) — Frank Bolling cracked a one-out 10th inning home run and righthander Duke Maas restricted the world champion New York Yankees to three hits today in a 2-1 Detroit Tiger triumph.

Bolling's home run, his third of the season, dissolved a tense pitching duel. Maas, beating the Yankees for the first time in his career, struck out seven and was in trouble in just one inning—the third, when New York scored its run on Andy Carey's blooper behind first base and Hank Bauer's long double.

Bolling's home run came off Bob Grim, who had taken over at the start of the 10th after starter Johnny Kucks was lifted for a pinch hitter. Kucks yielded only five safeties in the nine innings he worked and the only damage off him was Bolling's fourth inning triple which was converted into a run on a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline.

The Yankees didn't collect a hit from the time they scored in the third until Gil McDougald doubled with one away in the 10th. He got as far as third on an infield out but Maas got pinch hitter Joe Collins on an outfield fly to end the mild threat.

Maas, whose spotty major league career has been marked by excessive wildness, walked only four batters today and one of them was intentional.

Lawrence, Robinson Star For Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—Cincinnati's righthander Brooks Lawrence scattered nine hits and teammate Frank Robinson swatted a three-run homer tonight as the Red Legs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-3 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Lawrence weathered Philadelphia hitting in every inning but the sixth and seventh to rack up his second victory against one loss.

Starter Harvey Haddix, replaced by Dick Farrell in the fifth took the defeat for a 1-1 record.

Robinson connected in the third, the inning which spelled doom for the third place Phillies. Lawrence, Wally Post and Gus Bell had singled prior to Robinson's big moment. Lawrence had scored on Bell's effort.

Then Robinson hit his ball cleanly into the left field stands with Post and Bell romping home ahead of him.

Braves' Win Streak Stops In New York

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Johnny Antonelli checked Milwaukee's early rush, pitching the New York Giants to a 4-0 shutout tonight that snapped the Braves' four-game winning streak and handed them their second loss in 11 starts.

Antonelli, making his fourth start of the season, handcuffed the Braves with seven hits, only one of which came after the fourth inning. In addition, he poled one of the two Giant homers off loser Bob Buhl, and Ray Crone, to drive in half his teams runs. Dusty Rhodes accounted for the other two runs with his first homer of the campaign.

A crowd of 13,833 saw the Braves open their 12-game eastern swing on the wrong foot. They had runners on bases in each of the first four innings but could not crack through Antonelli's strong pitching when a hit meant a run.

Fullmer Defends Title Against Robinson Tonight

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will try to win the world middleweight title for the fourth time tomorrow night when he meets champion Gene Fullmer in a battle of faded ring skill against the brute strength of confident youth.

Fullmer, a 25-year-old mauler from the Utah copper mines, lifted Robinson's crown by a unanimous decision, Jan. 2 at New York, flooring the Sugar Man and cutting his left eye.

The rematch is expected to draw about 12,000 fans and a gate of about $150,000.

Radio-television receipts of $100,000 will boost the gate to the point where each fighter's cut of 30 per cent of TV and gate should be about $65,000.

Odds Jump Around

Under the pressure of pre-fight ballyhoo, the odds have been jumping around. From an original 8 to 1 on Fullmer you hear quotations of 2 to 1 and sometimes even lower.

Robinson's age is almost as hard to nail down as the price. The ring record books says he will be 37 on Friday but Ray insists he will be 36.

With the exception of Chicago and a 150-mile surrounding area which will be blacked out of the TV picture, the rest of the nation can judge for itself how much Robinson has left. The fight, starting at 9 p.m. (EST) will be seen on network (ABC) TV and also will be heard on radio (ABC), including Chicago.

Both Violated Rules

Alert to charges that Fullmer was guilty of rabbit punching and Robinson of continuous holding in their first bout, the Illinois Athletic Commission has advised referees to penalize the fighters for any violations.

Illinois uses the "five-point must system" of scoring which means the winner of a round gets five points and the loser four and so on down.

Even rounds are 5-5. Two judges and a referee to be named at ringside will hand down the decision.

When Fullmer finished training Saturday, he weighed 158 pounds while Robinson, who continued boxing through Monday, has been staying close to 162. Each expects to come in at 160 pounds "on the nose" at the noon weigh-in tomorrow at the stadium. In the first fight, Fullmer was surprisingly light at 157¼ and Robinson weighed exactly 160, the class limit.

Billy Pierce Scores Third Win Of Season

Chicago White Sox Beat Orioles, 6-1

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP) — With lefty Billy Pierce back in the groove after being bombed from the mound in his last two starts, the Chicago White Sox today stifled the Baltimore Orioles on six hits to maintain their American League lead with a 6-1 victory.

A dropped ball by second baseman Billy Gardner on an attempted force out in the third inning led to an unearned run that gave the Sox a 2-0 bulge. And after yielding a run in the fifth, the Sox caved in pitcher Ray Moore with four runs in the seventh to nail down their eighth triumph in 10 games.

Pierce boosted his record to 3-1, becoming the first American League hurler of the season to get three victories.

The big seventh would have been bigger had not shortstop Willie Miranda retired the side with a spectacular back-handed stab near third of Sherm Lollar's grounder to throw him out. The defensive gem brought a roar from the 4,470 fans at Comiskey Park.

Luis Aparicio's double to center and Larry Doby's two run single to right keyed the four-hit seventh that stamped Moore with his second setback against one decision and brought George Zuverink in to finish.

Potomac State Visits Elkins To Play D. & E.

Victorious in six consecutive games at home after dropping the first game of the season to Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, Potomac State College's tossers will play their second game of the season on the road when they oppose Davis & Elkins College today at Elkins.

Since the 14-10 loss at the hands of the Rams, Coach John Fox's Catamounts have beaten Alderson-Broaddus, 8-2 and Concord 3-1 and 7-6 West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference games and turned back Ashland (Ohio) College twice by the scores of 14-4 and Mount Union (Ohio) 5-4.

The Catamounts now own an overall record of 6-1 and in the conference they're 3-1.

Allen Gates or "Tuffy" Richardson will work on the firing line today as Coach Fox's aggregation goes after its seventh straight triumph.

Redlegs Beat Phillies, 6-3

Lawrence, Robinson Star For Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—Cincinnati's righthander Brooks Lawrence scattered nine hits and teammate Frank Robinson swatted a three-run homer tonight as the Red Legs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-3 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Lawrence weathered Philadelphia hitting in every inning but the sixth and seventh to rack up his second victory against one loss.

Starter Harvey Haddix, replaced by Dick Farrell in the fifth took the defeat for a 1-1 record.

Robinson connected in the third, the inning which spelled doom for the third place Phillies. Lawrence, Wally Post and Gus Bell had singled prior to Robinson's big moment. Lawrence had scored on Bell's effort.

Then Robinson hit his ball cleanly into the left field stands with Post and Bell romping home ahead of him.

Giants' John Antonelli Masters Milwaukee, 4-0

Braves' Win Streak Stops In New York

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Johnny Antonelli checked Milwaukee's early rush, pitching the New York Giants to a 4-0 shutout tonight that snapped the Braves' four-game winning streak and handed them their second loss in 11 starts.

Antonelli, making his fourth start of the season, handcuffed the Braves with seven hits, only one of which came after the fourth inning. In addition, he poled one of the two Giant homers off loser Bob Buhl, and Ray Crone, to drive in half his teams runs. Dusty Rhodes accounted for the other two runs with his first homer of the campaign.

A crowd of 13,833 saw the Braves open their 12-game eastern swing on the wrong foot. They had runners on bases in each of the first four innings but could not crack through Antonelli's strong pitching when a hit meant a run.

Federal Hill Beats Favored Gen. Duke In Derby Trial

Lussky Colt, Carstens Up, Cops $10,500

Qualifies For Derby, Iron Liege Finishes 5th In Field Of Six

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—Federal Hill, the hometown colt with terrific speed but doubtful staying ability, flashed to a sparkling victory over the favored Gen. Duke today in the $15,900 derby trial at Churchill Downs.

The result qualified Federal Hill, owned by Clifford Lussky of Louisville, for a starting berth in the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby on Saturday. The son of Cosmic Bomb led all the way in the one mile prep on a fast track.

Six three-year-olds contested the trial, and at least five of them are expected to come back in the mile and one-quarter roses run, America's premier thoroughbred classic.

Puts On Late Spurt

Gen. Duke, considered the chief hope of the Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey for a sixth Derby triumph, ran in last place for almost half a mile, then put on a drive to come up and grab second place. He was two and one-half lengths behind Federal Hill, ridden by Willie Carstens.

Gen. Duke, piloted by Willie Hartack, saved second place by a neck over William S. Miller's Better Bee, who took third by three and one-half lengths over Indian Creek, one-half of Ada L. Rice's entry.

Iron Liege, the other part of the Calumet entry which went off as the odds-on favorite at 2-5, ran a poor fifth. He was four lengths back of Indian Creek. Man Up Stairs, the other Rice colt, was last, another dozen lengths in arrears as he certainly eliminated himself from the Derby.

The time of the race, run over a fast track and under cloudless skies before a crowd of 16,500, was 1:36 1-5, compaired with the track record of 1:35 set by Hasty Road in the 1954 trial. Hasty Road beat Determiend that day, but the latter returned on Saturday and reversed the decision in the Derby.

Wins $10,000 Purse

In picking up the purse of $10,500, Federal Hill paid $6.40 and $2.20 as the second choice with no show betting. Gen. Duke returned $2.20 to place.

Finishing second in the trial doesn't mean that the Derby is lost for Calumet, any more than winning stamps that colt as the one towatch on Saturday. Since 1938, when the trial was inaugurated, six horses have finished second but came back to top the Derby. Two were from Calumet—Whirlaway and Ponder.

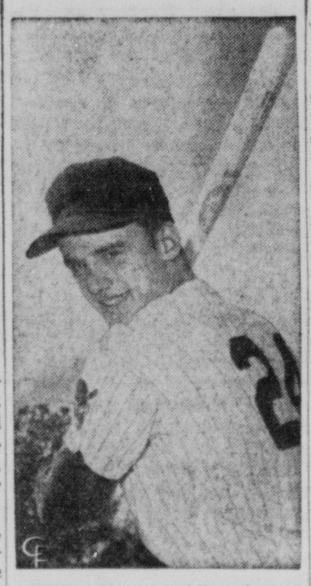
The Blue Grass hardboots, and even owner Lussky and trainer Milt Rieser, have expressed doubts that Federal Hill can pack another quarter mile onto his trial effort today and make it stick over Gen. Duke and other top Derby contenders.

Signs Grid Pact

OTTAWA, April 30 (AP) — The Ottawa Rough Riders signed halfback Jim Roseboro today.

The 21-year-old back played for Ohio State and is a brother of John Roseboro, catcher for Montreal in the International Baseball League.

New Role



RATED the world's fastest man last year before an injury forced his withdrawal from the Olympic finals, Dave Sime of Duke has switched uniforms this spring and is concentrating on the diamond game. Dave, an outfielder, is hitting over .400. (International)

Howard Grant Scores Triple

Apprentice Rider Has Total 24 Wins

LAUREL, April 30 (AP) — Apprentice Howard Grant, of Cincinnati, Ohio, rode three winners, including Venomous in the featured Lilac Time purse, at Laurel race track today.

Carrying the silks of B. A. Dario, president of Lincoln Downs Track in New England, Venomous was not completely extended in running six furlongs in 1.11 4/5 to return odds of $5.20 for $2.

The 25th day of the 29-day Laurel meeting opened with Grant and veteran Joe Culmone tied in the saddle contest with 21 winners each. Since Culmone had but one winner, Grant is now two winners in front of Culmone with a score of 24 tallies for the meeting.

Gay Warbler, owned by Max Zipkin, was easily second best and finished three panels in front of the Brookfield Farm's Inflame while Mrs. Christopher M. Greer's Heaven's Above, who was closest to Venomous in the early furlongs, dropped back to fourth.

Venomous paid $5.20, $3.40 and $3.20; Guy Warbler $3.00 and $2.60; Inflame $5.80.

Grant served notice he was headed for a big day when he won the opening event with Carolyn K. Stable's New Cut, who was second choice at $10.60 and won by a length and a quarter from favorite, Blue Vet.

Skins Sign Ready

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Robert Ready, former Notre Dame tackle, has signed to play with the Washington Redskins, the National Football League club said today.

Ready, 6 feet 3 and 230 pounds, was a Redskins' draft choice in 1954. The lineman has been in the Air Force the last two years.

Pro Bono Annexes Jamaica Feature

JAMAICA, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—Benjamin B. Davis Jr.'s Pro Bono was up the final strides to win the Midland Beach Purse at Jamaica Race Track today.

Handled by Raul Sterling, leading rider of the meeting, Pro Bono stepped the six furlongs in the moderate time of 1:12 2/5 in winning by a neck over Velvet Acres' First Asking. Third money, two and a quarter lengths Astern, went to Christopher T. Chenery's Next Day.

Given but lukewarm support in the wagering by the crowd of 21,436, Pro Bono returned mutuels of $14.70, $5.30 and $4.40.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 30 (INS)—Gene Fullmer is a nice young fellow who probably hasn't an enemy in the world.

Sugar Ray Robinson also has his good points, but he has rubbed many people the wrong way in and out of the fight racket.

Knowing this, you might suppose that all Robinson's enemies in the fight mob would be pulling for Fullmer to knock his block off when Robinson tries to regain the middleweight title in Chicago tomorrow night.

But, strange to say, this is not so, for some of his bitterest enemies admit Sugar Ray has been one of the greatest fighters of our time. They hate to see him beaten by a man they think can't fight a lick.

One of the fight managers who never hesitates to express his personal dislike of Robinson said the other day:

"I'd like to see a real good fighter hand him a licking, but I hate to see him lose to someone like Fullmer. All that Fullmer has is the strength of a bull."

We can't agree that strength is Fullmer's only attribute as a fighter. It's true he hasn't a punch. But he can take a good punch, he has unlimited endurance and courage, and while he can't box much, his awkwardness makes him harder to handle than you might think.

Ten years ago Robinson would have made a chopping block of a fellow like Fullmer. In fact, he did just that more than once to Jake Lamotta, who was even stronger, tougher and more durable than Fullmer.

But the years have drained some of Robinson's speed and punch, and while he says nobody ever has beaten him twice he will have to change his tactics if he is to beat Fullmer.

Last time they met, Robinson fought like a chump. To everybody's surprise he let Fullmer bull him around in the clinches. Robinson used to be a master at tieing up an opponent, but Fullmer apparently had little trouble in getting one hand free to pound the back of Ray's head.

Robinson needed that last fight to convince himself his legs could stand the pace for 15 rounds. This time we expect to see him move around more and outbox the champion.

Fullmer may be expected to continue his bull-like rushes because that's the only way he knows how to fight. He can't hope to outbox even an aging Robinson, so he must rely on getting in close to slug his opponent in the clinches.

These tactics paid off big last time because Sugar either couldn't or wouldn't stay away. This time we expect to see Robinson show at least some flashes of his former hand and foot speed and ring generalship.

We've got to string with Robinson to win just one more time.

Federal Hill Beats Favored Gen. Duke In Derby Trial

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—Federal Hill, the hometown colt with terrific speed but doubtful staying ability, flashed to a sparkling victory over the favored Gen. Duke today in the $15,900 derby trial at Churchill Downs.

The result qualified Federal Hill, owned by Clifford Lussky of Louisville, for a starting berth in the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby on Saturday. The son of Cosmic Bomb led all the way in the one mile prep on a fast track.

Six three-year-olds contested the trial, and at least five of them are expected to come back in the mile and one-quarter roses run, America's premier thoroughbred classic.

Puts On Late Spurt

Gen. Duke, considered the chief hope of the Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey for a sixth Derby triumph, ran in last place for almost half a mile, then put on a drive to come up and grab second place. He was two and one-half lengths behind Federal Hill, ridden by Willie Carstens.

Gen. Duke, piloted by Willie Hartack, saved second place by a neck over William S. Miller's Better Bee, who took third by three and one-half lengths over Indian Creek, one-half of Ada L. Rice's entry.

Iron Liege, the other part of the Calumet entry which went off as the odds-on favorite at 2-5, ran a poor fifth. He was four lengths back of Indian Creek. Man Up Stairs, the other Rice colt, was last, another dozen lengths in arrears as he certainly eliminated himself from the Derby.

The time of the race, run over a fast track and under cloudless skies before a crowd of 16,500, was 1:36 1-5, compaired with the track record of 1:35 set by Hasty Road in the 1954 trial. Hasty Road beat Determiend that day, but the latter returned on Saturday and reversed the decision in the Derby.

Wins $10,000 Purse

In picking up the purse of $10,500, Federal Hill paid $6.40 and $2.20 as the second choice with no show betting. Gen. Duke returned $2.20 to place.

Finishing second in the trial doesn't mean that the Derby is lost for Calumet, any more than winning stamps that colt as the one towatch on Saturday. Since 1938, when the trial was inaugurated, six horses have finished second but came back to top the Derby. Two were from Calumet—Whirlaway and Ponder.

The Blue Grass hardbooks, and even owner Lussky and trainer Milt Rieser, have expressed doubts that Federal Hill can pack another quarter mile onto his trial effort today and make it stick over Gen. Duke and other top Derby contenders.

Howard Grant Scores Triple

Apprentice Rider Has Total 24 Wins

LAUREL, April 30 (AP) — Apprentice Howard Grant, of Cincinnati, Ohio, rode three winners, including Venomous in the featured Lilac Time purse, at Laurel race track today.

Carrying the silks of B. A. Dario, president of Lincoln Downs Track in New England, Venomous was not completely extended in running six furlongs in 1.11 4/5 to return odds of $5.20 for $2.

The 25th day of the 29-day Laurel meeting opened with Grant and veteran Joe Culmone tied in the saddle contest with 21 winners each. Since Culmone had but one winner, Grant is now two winners in front of Culmone with a score of 24 tallies for the meeting.

Gay Warbler, owned by Max Zipkin, was easily second best and finished three panels in front of the Brookfield Farm's Inflame while Mrs. Christopher M. Greer's Heaven's Above, who was closest to Venomous in the early furlongs, dropped back to fourth.

Venomous paid $5.20, $3.40 and $3.20; Guy Warbler $3.00 and $2.60; Inflame $5.80.

Grant served notice he was headed for a big day when he won the opening event with Carolyn K. Stable's New Cut, who was second choice at $10.60 and won by a length and a quarter from favorite, Blue Vet.

Skins Sign Ready

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Robert Ready, former Notre Dame tackle, has signed to play with the Washington Redskins, the National Football League club said today.

Ready, 6 feet 3 and 230 pounds, was a Redskins' draft choice in 1954. The lineman has been in the Air Force the last two years.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 30 (INS)—Gene Fullmer is a nice young fellow who probably hasn't an enemy in the world.

Sugar Ray Robinson also has his good points, but he has rubbed many people the wrong way in and out of the fight racket.

Knowing this, you might suppose that all Robinson's enemies in the fight mob would be pulling for Fullmer to knock his block off when Robinson tries to regain the middleweight title in Chicago tomorrow night.

But, strange to say, this is not so, for some of his bitterest enemies admit Sugar Ray has been one of the greatest fighters of our time. They hate to see him beaten by a man they think can't fight a lick.

One of the fight managers who never hesitates to express his personal dislike of Robinson said the other day:

"I'd like to see a real good fighter hand him a licking, but I hate to see him lose to someone like Fullmer. All that Fullmer has is the strength of a bull."

We can't agree that strength is Fullmer's only attribute as a fighter. It's true he hasn't a punch. But he can take a good punch, he has unlimited endurance and courage, and while he can't box much, his awkwardness makes him harder to handle than you might think.

Ten years ago Robinson would have made a chopping block of a fellow like Fullmer. In fact, he did just that more than once to Jake Lamotta, who was even stronger, tougher and more durable than Fullmer.

But the years have drained some of Robinson's speed and punch, and while he says nobody ever has beaten him twice he will have to change his tactics if he is to beat Fullmer.

Last time they met, Robinson fought like a chump. To everybody's surprise he let Fullmer bull him around in the clinches. Robinson used to be a master at tieing up an opponent, but Fullmer apparently had little trouble in getting one hand free to pound the back of Ray's head.

Robinson needed that last fight to convince himself his legs could stand the pace for 15 rounds. This time we expect to see him move around more and outbox the champion.

Fullmer may be expected to continue his bull-like rushes because that's the only way he knows how to fight. He can't hope to outbox even an aging Robinson, so he must rely on getting in close to slug his opponent in the clinches.

These tactics paid off big last time because Sugar either couldn't or wouldn't stay away. This time we expect to see Robinson show at least some flashes of his former hand and foot speed and ring generalship.

We've got to string with Robinson to win just one more time.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 30—(INS)—On his fleeting trip to the coast, Bennett Cerf telephoned to say that he is very excited about Ayn Rand's new novel, "Atlas Shrugged," which Random House is bringing out in September. He said he's had requests from all the studios to read the galley proofs, and promised to send me a copy of the book before it comes out.

Remember what a big hit Ayn Rand's "Fountainhead" was when it was published a few years ago and later made into a motion picture?

While here, Bennett did another little job. He discussed with Mrs. Arthur Hornblow her book, "The Love Seekers," which comes out in July. I met Bubbles and Arthur when I had lunch with Cobina Wright at Romanoff's, and Arthur thinks Bubbles' book is the best one she's done.

When I visited Elvis Presley on the set of "Loving You," I was impressed with Dolores Hart, pretty young teenager who was given her first motion picture chance in this film by Hal Wallis.

So I was very interested today to hear that Dolores will play the romantic interest in "Possession," which stars Anna Magnani, Tony Quinn and Tony Franciosa. She plays the teenage daughter of Quinn, whose stepmother, Anna, tries to lure Franciosa away from Dolores. A natural blonde, she has to dye her hair black, but she is so happy she doesn't mind a bit.

I put in a long distance telephone call to Ingrid Bergman when there were rumors that she and Rossellini had ended their marriage.

"How do rumors like that start?" asked Ingrid. "There's absolutely no truth in it. I finish in Paris with 'Tea and Sympathy' in July and I go directly to Rome. Then I'll make up my mind what motion picture or play I'll do next season. But I expect to have a vacation with my husband and my children. He just called me today. Why do I have to keep telling the world that I am not separated from Roberto?"

Penalty of fame, I suppose.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The stork will visit Gregg Juarez and his very rich bride, Frederica Segrist. They arrived in town today.

Hollywood's newest star-gazers are Joan Collins and Freddie De Cordova. They went to the Moulin Rouge Friday, had breakfast at the Beverly Hills Hotel Sunday, and were guests of the James Masons at dinner.

Ernie Borgnine's suit against Hecht-Hill-Lancaster comes up in October and at this writing it doesn't look as if a settlement is possible.

Belle Baker's warmth and smile will be missed. Her death was so sudden her friends were unprepared for it.

The redheaded girl Jack Dempsey has been seeing is named Marilyn Lindsay.

The teenagers have nominated Dean Martin as their new crush. The Moulin Rogue has been packed every night.

Frankie Laine not only gave Gene Littler $10,000 for winning the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, but he also presented the winning golfer with a Thunderbird.

Other Las Vegas news is that Donald O'Connor has had all the stars of the Vegas strip in to see him at the Sahara and help him celebrate his 30th anniversary in show business.

Hollywood hatter Rex takes off for Europe May 10 on the S. S. Liberte for a vacation and business trip.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Youth Posts Bond In Morals Case

Dewey Emerick, 20, of 11 Valley Street, posted $2,500 bond in Trial Magistrates Court on a morals charge Monday.

Emerick was released from Allegany County Jail where he was being held along with Harvey C. Linn, RD 1, city, on charges of statutory rape involving two 13-year-old girls.

The pair was arrested Wednesday morning by State Trooper D. A. Tucker, who said the offenses took place at the Linn residence on Oldtown Road.

Linn is still being held for action of the October grand jury on $2,500 bond. Also in custody is one of the two girls on $500 bond as a material witness in the case. The second girl has posted her bond and was released.

Know how to use a word and pronounce it correctly, to make your speech more interesting.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your Word Sense

If the word you seek is always at the tip of your tongue and you can speak it without hesitating, that's fine. If the word is there, but you're not positive of its meaning or pronunciation (so you just don't voice it) you're candidate for a short course in vocabulary building.

Where To Start

Suppose you pick up a book now and glance through it to spot unfamiliar spellings. Consult the dictionary on the uses and meanings of these words and jot down the information for reference. Devise phrases in which the words might be conversationally useful. When the occasion for use arises, you'll be ready and able to move the word from the tip of your tongue into the realm of the vocal.

Just looking at a morning newspaper, I came across these often-written but seldom-voiced words: febrile, frenetic, omniscient, chauvinist, ephemeral, esoteric. Are these so familiar to you that you'd phrase them easily into your talk? They're useful, descriptive!

Word Test

Try the little vocabulary quiz below, to see if you can match word with meaning. I'll give you the correct definitions, but I leave it to you to check on pronunciations.

1. Febrile. Weak. Fabric-like. Indecisive. Feverish.
2. Frenetic. Absent minded. Frenzied. Fresh. Ornamental.
3. Omniscient. Powerful. Wise. Ever-present. All-knowing.
4. Chauvinist. One who likes animals. One who writes for a living. One who is over-patriotic.
5. Ephemeral. Vague. Fairy-like. Having short life. Heavenly.
6. Esoteric. Confined to a select circle. Widely known. Having a poor reputation.

Did you hesitate? Well, here are the answers, for you to determine your score: 1. Feverish. 2. Frenzied. 3. All-knowing. 4. One who is over-patriotic. 5. Having short life. 6. Confined to a select circle.

Recognizing these words, it's up to you to make them working tools in your own everyday speech.

Tomorrow: Pose at a Party.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 30 — (INS) — The old diplomat, whose name and nationality we are not privileged to reveal, put it this way when he got around to discussing the Soviet Union:

After Stalin's death the new leaders made a realistic adjustment. But they underestimated the hatred of the Soviet Union and of the satellite regimes. The blowups in Poland and Hungary show the persistence of historical currents. Those countries have been anti-Russian for a century. The Kremlin honestly believed it could change them by persuasion, argument or might in a few years.

Truth is that the Bolsheviki haven't succeeded in producing the new Soviet man, inside or outside the country. The people of the Soviet Union are just as Russian as ever, showing all the traits of the human animal. The functioning of the system assumes otherwise, but in 40 years the Bolsheviki have not been able to make the assumption come true.

The students who are being restless — and it is no more than that — are actually third generation, a simon-pure genuine product of the Soviet Union — and sick to death because the ideology and everything else about the Soviet state is faded, monotonous, unattractive. It used to have oomph, but now it is sheer boredom.

The greatest theoretician, Bukharian, who unfortunately was shot, believed that the more disagreeable human traits grew from a capitalistic environment. But there never has been a new Soviet man.

...The threat of expulsion from school is enough to keep most (students) in line. It is hard, otherwise, to find out exactly what lies behind their restlessness. They, and people in general with an education, seem to be angry because they were told a pack of lies about Hungary and Poland, and to be questioning WHY they were told a pack of lies.

But this restlessness has not caused the leaders a sleepless night. Had this occurred under Stalin it would have been a sign feelings were so hot that people were ready to commit suicide by protesting. Under today's relaxed circumstances it doesn't mean that.

...With the British and French invasion there were demonstrations at their embassies in Moscow. At the British Embassy an official asked the Soviet officer in charge how much longer the demonstration would last. The officer consulted his wrist watch carefully, and replied politely, "about 25 minutes." The demonstrators had been picked up by government buses at eight that morning.

...Tito is in bad shape, which is the reason he is making new overtures to the United States. The Russian leaders have mobilized everybody in the communist world against him.

The regime is not re-Stalinizing Stalin. He is not being rehabilitated on any of the points of which he was denounced. The speech hasn't caused any immediate trouble in the Soviet state.

The heat is on West Germany. The Kremlin, in devious ways, say to the West Germans, "you people are realistic. The thing for you to do is get together with your East German brothers. In the meantime, let's have that lovely trade. The Americans, French and British are putting you through a meatchopper, putting you in the atomic forefront while New Jersey is safe."

Khrushchev will stay for some time to come, for want of a vigorous replacement. Malenkov is only 54 and might work his way back in time. Bulganin is becoming the Grover Whalen of Russia. They took all the deputy ministers who were any good away from him, for reasons of state. They all went into the economic council.

Geneva was infinitely more dangerous to them than to the West because their system suffers from relaxation of state power. Before Geneva there were no Poznans or Budapests—the Chinese reds? They are junior partners. It will be years, decades, before there is any real clash of interests between them and Moscow, if ever. To delay it interminably, there are now 186 Russian industrial enterprises in China.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 30—(INS)—On his fleeting trip to the coast, Bennett Cerf telephoned to say that he is very excited about Ayn Rand's new novel, "Atlas Shrugged," which Random House is bringing out in September. He said he's had requests from all the studios to read the galley proofs, and promised to send me a copy of the book before it comes out.

Remember what a big hit Ayn Rand's "Fountainhead" was when it was published a few years ago and later made into a motion picture?

While here, Bennett did another little job. He discussed with Mrs. Arthur Hornblow her book, "The Love Seekers," which comes out in July. I met Bubbles and Arthur when I had lunch with Cobina Wright at Romanoff's, and Arthur thinks Bubbles' book is the best one she's done.

When I visited Elvis Presley on the set of "Loving You," I was impressed with Dolores Hart, pretty young teenager who was given her first motion picture chance in this film by Hal Wallis.

So I was very interested today to hear that Dolores will play the romantic interest in "Possession," which stars Anna Magnani, Tony Quinn and Tony Franciosa. She plays the teenage daughter of Quinn, whose stepmother, Anna, tries to lure Franciosa away from Dolores. A natural blonde, she has to dye her hair black, but she is so happy she doesn't mind a bit.

I put in a long distance telephone call to Ingrid Bergman when there were rumors that she and Rossellini had ended their marriage.

"How do rumors like that start?" asked Ingrid. "There's absolutely no truth in it. I finish in Paris with 'Tea and Sympathy' in July and I go directly to Rome. Then I'll make up my mind what motion picture or play I'll do next season. But I expect to have a vacation with my husband and my children. He just called me today. Why do I have to keep telling the world that I am not separated from Roberto?"

Penalty of fame, I suppose.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The stork will visit Gregg Juarez and his very rich bride, Frederica Segrist. They arrived in town today.

Hollywood's newest star-gazers are Joan Collins and Freddie De Cordova. They went to the Moulin Rouge Friday, had breakfast at the Beverly Hills Hotel Sunday, and were guests of the James Masons at dinner.

Ernie Borgnine's suit against Hecht-Hill-Lancaster comes up in October and at this writing it doesn't look as if a settlement is possible.

Belle Baker's warmth and smile will be missed. Her death was so sudden her friends were unprepared for it.

The redheaded girl Jack Dempsey has been seeing is named Marilyn Lindsay.

The teenagers have nominated Dean Martin as their new crush. The Moulin Rogue has been packed every night.

Frankie Laine not only gave Gene Littler $10,000 for winning the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, but he also presented the winning golfer with a Thunderbird.

Other Las Vegas news is that Donald O'Connor has had all the stars of the Vegas strip in to see him at the Sahara and help him celebrate his 30th anniversary in show business.

Hollywood hatter Rex takes off for Europe May 10 on the S. S. Liberte for a vacation and business trip.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Youth Posts Bond In Morals Case

Dewey Emerick, 20, of 11 Valley Street, posted $2,500 bond in Trial Magistrates Court on a morals charge Monday.

Emerick was released from Allegany County Jail where he was being held along with Harvey C. Linn, RD 1, city, on charges of statutory rape involving two 13-year-old girls.

The pair was arrested Wednesday morning by State Trooper D. A. Tucker, who said the offenses took place at the Linn residence on Oldtown Road.

Linn is still being held for action of the October grand jury on $2,500 bond. Also in custody is one of the two girls on $500 bond as a material witness in the case. The second girl has posted her bond and was released.

Know how to use a word and pronounce it correctly, to make your speech more interesting.

Secrets Of Charm

Your Word Sense

If the word you seek is always at the tip of your tongue and you can speak it without hesitating, that's fine. If the word is there, but you're not positive of its meaning or pronunciation (so you just don't voice it) you're candidate for a short course in vocabulary building.

Where To Start

Suppose you pick up a book now and glance through it to spot unfamiliar spellings. Consult the dictionary on the uses and meanings of these words and jot down the information for reference. Devise phrases in which the words might be conversationally useful. When the occasion for use arises, you'll be ready and able to move the word from the tip of your tongue into the realm of the vocal.

Just looking at a morning newspaper, I came across these often-written but seldom-voiced words: febrile, frenetic, omniscient, chauvinist, ephemeral, esoteric. Are these so familiar to you that you'd phrase them easily into your talk? They're useful, descriptive!

Word Test

Try the little vocabulary quiz below, to see if you can match word with meaning. I'll give you the correct definitions, but I leave it to you to check on pronunciations.

1. Febrile. Weak. Fabric-like. Indecisive. Feverish.
2. Frenetic. Absent minded. Frenzied. Fresh. Ornamental.
3. Omniscient. Powerful. Wise. Ever-present. All-knowing.
4. Chauvinist. One who likes animals. One who writes for a living. One who is over-patriotic.
5. Ephemeral. Vague. Fairy-like. Having short life. Heavenly.
6. Esoteric. Confined to a select circle. Widely known. Having a poor reputation.

Did you hesitate? Well, here are the answers, for you to determine your score: 1. Feverish. 2. Frenzied. 3. All-knowing. 4. One who is over-patriotic. 5. Having short life. 6. Confined to a select circle.

Recognizing these words, it's up to you to make them working tools in your own everyday speech.

Tomorrow: Pose at a Party.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, April 30 — (INS) — The old diplomat, whose name and nationality we are not privileged to reveal, put it this way when he got around to discussing the Soviet Union:

After Stalin's death the new leaders made a realistic adjustment. But they underestimated the hatred of the Soviet Union and of the satellite regimes. The blowups in Poland and Hungary show the persistence of historical currents. Those countries have been anti-Russian for a century. The Kremlin honestly believed it could change them by persuasion, argument or might in a few years.

Truth is that the Bolsheviki haven't succeeded in producing the new Soviet man, inside or outside the country. The people of the Soviet Union are just as Russian as ever, showing all the traits of the human animal. The functioning of the system assumes otherwise, but in 40 years the Bolsheviki have not been able to make the assumption come true.

The students who are being restless — and it is no more than that — are actually third generation, a simon-pure genuine product of the Soviet Union — and sick to death because the ideology and everything else about the Soviet state is faded, monotonous, unattractive. It used to have oomph, but now it is sheer boredom.

The greatest theoretician, Bukharian, who unfortunately was shot, believed that the more disagreeable human traits grew from a capitalistic environment. But there never has been a new Soviet man.

...The threat of expulsion from school is enough to keep most (students) in line. It is hard, otherwise, to find out exactly what lies behind their restlessness. They, and people in general with an education, seem to be angry because they were told a pack of lies about Hungary and Poland, and to be questioning WHY they were told a pack of lies.

But this restlessness has not caused the leaders a sleepless night. Had this occurred under Stalin it would have been a sign feelings were so hot that people were ready to commit suicide by protesting. Under today's relaxed circumstances it doesn't mean that.

...With the British and French invasion there were demonstrations at their embassies in Moscow. At the British Embassy an official asked the Soviet officer in charge how much longer the demonstration would last. The officer consulted his wrist watch carefully, and replied politely, "about 25 minutes." The demonstrators had been picked up by government buses at eight that morning.

...Tito is in bad shape, which is the reason he is making new overtures to the United States. The Russian leaders have mobilized everybody in the communist world against him.

The regime is not re-Stalinizing Stalin. He is not being rehabilitated on any of the points of which he was denounced. The speech hasn't caused any immediate trouble in the Soviet state.

The heat is on West Germany. The Kremlin, in devious ways, say to the West Germans, "you people are realistic. The thing for you to do is get together with your East German brothers. In the meantime, let's have that lovely trade. The Americans, French and British are putting you through a meatchopper, putting you in the atomic forefront while New Jersey is safe."

Khrushchev will stay for some time to come, for want of a vigorous replacement. Malenkov is only 54 and might work his way back in time. Bulganin is becoming the Grover Whalen of Russia. They took all the deputy ministers who were any good away from him, for reasons of state. They all went into the economic council.

Geneva was infinitely more dangerous to them than to the West because their system suffers from relaxation of state power. Before Geneva there were no Poznans or Budapests—the Chinese reds? They are junior partners. It will be years, decades, before there is any real clash of interests between them and Moscow, if ever. To delay it interminably, there are now 186 Russian industrial enterprises in China.

Wide Moves By Selected Issues Feature Market

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Most key stocks moved irregularly today and within narrow limits but the stock market got a spark of life from some wide moves by selected issues.

The record earnings, sales and production figures of U. S. Steel announced after the close were apparently all anticipated yesterday when the stock had an unusual rise of 1⅜. Today it took a loss of ⅜ in fairly active dealings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 40 cents to $180.60 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Volume totaled 2,200,000 shares compared with 2,290,000 yesterday.

Bethlehem Steel headed the most active list, off ⅛ at 46 on 65,700 shares. Second was American Bosch Arma, up ¾ at 26 on 32,000 shares. Third was General Motors, up ¼ at 42⅜.

Next came Cooper-Bessemer, off 3⅜ at 71¾ and Chrysler up ⅛ at 77½.

Baltimore Livestock

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—(USDA): Cattle 150; slaughter steers including good and choice 935-1130 lb averages at 20.50-22.00, 1 load choice 883 lb yearlings 24.25, few utility and standard 660-1050 lbs 16.00-19.50; odd head canner and cutter cows ranged 9.00-13.50, few good and choice 825-635 lb stocker steers fully steady at 22.50-24.00, odd head lots medium 490-650 lbs 17.00-18.00.

Calves 100; choice and prime vealers 25.00-27.00, good and choice 20.00-24.00, some utility down to 11.00.

Hogs 400; 180-230 lb weight range 18.50-19.00, largely No. 1 & 2 grade at latter price; few No. 1 & 2 under 400 lbs sows 25 cents higher at 16.50, few other mixed grade sows about steady to 50 cents lower, under 400 lbs 15.25-16.00, few 400-500 lbs 14.25-15.00, odd head 500-600 lbs 13.75-14.25.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

ROSARIO, Argentina, April 30 (AP)—Marcelino Chitarroni claims his set has received TV transmissions from Mexico City, almost 5,000 miles from here. He says he also has been able to get Brazilian and Venezuelan programs.

Uncontested Damage Suit Decision Made

The plaintiff in an uncontested damage suit was awarded a decree for $850.60 yesterday in Circuit Court by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Charles L. Harris, 16 Schiller Terrace, sued Kenneth A. Fish, of Fountain City, Ind., as the result of a collision atop Town Hill Mountain last July 8 about 9:30 p.m.

Harris was in the Army at the time and was headed for Fort Dix, N. J. where he was to be discharged. Fish's car was headed west on U.S. Route 40 at the time. The plaintiff said that Fish passed a tractor-trailer at the summit of the mountain and crashed into his car.

Fred Anderson was attorney for Harris.

"Mom'll be down in a minute. She's fillin' the bathtub."

"The cost of living is getting ridiculous! . . . I can remember when this 'large economy size' was your 'free trial package'!"

Wide Moves By Selected Issues Feature Market

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Most key stocks moved irregularly today and within narrow limits but the stock market got a spark of life from some wide moves by selected issues.

The record earnings, sales and production figures of U. S. Steel announced after the close were apparently all anticipated yesterday when the stock had an unusual rise of 1⅜. Today it took a loss of ⅜ in fairly active dealings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 40 cents to $180.60 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Volume totaled 2,200,000 shares compared with 2,290,000 yesterday.

Bethlehem Steel headed the most active list, off ⅛ at 46 on 65,700 shares. Second was American Bosch Arma, up ¾ at 26 on 32,000 shares. Third was General Motors, up ⅛ at 42⅜.

Next came Cooper-Bessemer, off 3⅛ at 71¾ and Chrysler up ⅛ at 77½.

Baltimore Livestock

Calves 100; choice and prime vealers 25.00-27.00, good and choice 20.00-24.00, some utility down to 11.00.

Hogs 400; 180-230 lb weight range 18.50-19.00, largely No. 1 & 2 grade at latter price; few No. 1 & 2 under 400 lbs sows 25 cents higher at 16.50, few other mixed grade sows about steady to 50 cents lower, under 400 lbs 15.25-16.00, few 400-500 lbs 14.25-15.00, odd head 500-600 lbs 13.75-14.25.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Uncontested Damage Suit Decision Made

The plaintiff in an uncontested damage suit was awarded a decree for $850.60 yesterday in Circuit Court by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Charles L. Harris, 16 Schiller Terrace, sued Kenneth A. Fish, of Fountain City, Ind., as the result of a collision atop Town Hill Mountain last July 8 about 9:30 p.m.

Harris was in the Army at the time and was headed for Fort Dix, N. J. where he was to be discharged. Fish's car was headed west on U.S. Route 40 at the time. The plaintiff said that Fish passed a tractor-trailer at the summit of the mountain and crashed into his car.

Fred Anderson was attorney for Harris.

Office Burglar Gets $438 At Lonaconing

Enters Insurance Firm, Tax Branch

Approximately $438 was taken by a fast-working culprit who broke into two Lonaconing business offices—operated by the assistant state's attorney and by a tax collector—yesterday during the noon hour. However a quantity of additional money was left undisturbed.

The theft occurred after $3,200 from the two offices had been deposited in the branch bank of the Liberty Trust Company, located in the same building where the breaking and entering took place.

Maryland State Police said the intruder jimmied the front doors of the offices of James Holmes, district tax collector, and an insurance agency owned by James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney of Allegany County.

Second-Floor Offices

The offices are located on the second floor of the building occupied by the branch bank. Mr. Getty reported that an inventory of cash in his office showed the culprit took $388, which is covered by insurance.

Approximately $50 was taken from the tax collector's office.

Shortly before the breaking and entering of that office, Mr. Holmes had deposited $2,500 in the bank. And prior to the forced entry of the insurance office, $700 had been deposited in the bank by Mrs. Isabell Grove, manager and secretary.

No Fingerprints Found

A small pinch bar or crow bar was used by the culprit who apparently left no fingerprints. He also overlooked other money as he hurridely completed his job.

An occupant of an apartment on the same floor said she was busy washing clothes and heard no unusual noise or disturbance between 12:05 p. m. and 12:50 p. m., when the breaking and entering occurred.

Mr. Getty pointed out the culprit apparently was familiar with the offices. Investigating are Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, Tfc. Donald Wade, and Trooper Joseph Stakem, of the State Police and Police Officer Dale Lynden of Lonaconing.

'Ham' Radio Demonstrated

This "ham" radio station was set up at Central YMCA yesterday by these three amateur operators as an educational program for the Cumberland Rotary Club meeting. Pictured, left to right, are Miles G. Thompson Jr., Charles A. Hice and Samuel Durland, who is a student at Allegany High School. The importance of amateur radio stations in time of emergency was stressed at yesterday's meeting.

U. Of M. Alumni Group Hears Campus Reports

Speakers Cite Much Progress

A numbebr of speakers actively associated with the University of Maryland were heard at a reactivation dinner meeting of the University of Maryland Alumni Association for Allegany and Garrett counties last night at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Among those heard were Edmund S. Burke, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland; David Brigham, executive secretary in charge of alumni activity; Albert Carmony, assistant to Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the university, and Tommy Mont, the head football coach.

Mr. Burke, who is president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here, said that state universities such as the University of Maryland have the major responsibility for seeing that the increased population in the next few years has the opportunity for college education.

Mr. Brigham spoke on the progress made at the university in the last several years and emphasized that all schools of the university are now accredited.

Tommy Mont directed his remarks to the prospects for the 1957 football team at College Park. He said he was expecting strong support from six or eight Cumberland boys who will be in the varsity squad next year. He singled out Gene Alderton, one of the co-captains, as one of the outstanding college centers in the nation.

Dr. J. Russell Cook, president of the Allegany-Garrett association, served as toastmaster last night. He said the group plans to stimulate local interest in the University of Maryland. A fall meeting is being planned in September or October at which Dr. Elkins will be the guest of honor.

A number of area high school coaches and prospective students at College Park were guests last night.

Burlington Girl Named National Merit Scholar

Miss S. Elizabeth Reed of Burlington, W. Va., a senior at Keyser High School, is one of the 830 winners of the largest scholarship competition ever conducted in the United States.

The 830 merit scholars and the colleges they have chosen to attend will share over $4 million in scholarship aid provided by 57 companies and foundations. The nationwide competition is conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which annually searches the nation for its most able high school seniors.

Miss Reed, who is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Reed of Burlington, earlier attended the Burlington Model School. She maintains an A average at Keyser High School. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the HiTimes staff and is secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Will Attend D&E

The Burlington girl also was president of her junior class at Keyser High School. She is the first girl in the Mineral County school to receive the Bausch and Lomb Science award. She is active in the Youth Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church and also is active in 4-H work. She plans to attend Davis and Elkins College on her scholarship, and major in mathematics.

Miss Reed was one of 13 West Virginians to win national merit scholarships. Of the others four are from Huntington, two each from Charleston and Parkersburg and one each from Clarksburg, St. Albans, Triadelphia and Wheeling.

Ten Marylanders won national merit scholarships. Five of them are from Baltimore and the other five from suburban Washington. Included are two from Bethesda and one each from Chevy Chase, Hyattsville and Takoma Park.

The only other Tri-State area merit scholarship winner is Michael D. Reynolds, 122 East Union Street, Somerset, Pa., one of 57 Pennsylvanians so honored. He is a student at Mercersburg Academy and plans to major in biology at Princeton University.

162,000 Took Part

Over 162,000 students, more than 10 per cent of the country's entire high school senior enrollment, entered the competition as the nominees of 12,500 high schools. The winners survived two rigorous college aptitude tests and displayed high personal achievement in winning the most sought-after awards available to high school students.

Each merit scholarship provides its winners with the funds he needs to attend the college of his choice for four years. Family resources, summer earnings of the student and college costs all are considered in determining the amount that accompanies each award. The grants to the merit scholars named today vary from a minimum honorary award of $100 a year for the four college years to over $2,000 a year in cases of great need. The average student's stipend is about $650 a year.

Among the donors to this scholarship program are The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, $500,000, and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Foundation, $60,000.

Local Sailor Is Injured In Highway Crash

Richard E. Young In 'Fair' Condition

Richard Edward Young, 18-year-old local sailor en route to his station in Bainbridge after attending a funeral here on Monday, was hospitalized early yesterday morning in a car-truck crash on U. S. Route 40 west of Frederick.

He sustained a fractured skull and severe lacerations of his face, and is reported in "fair" condition at Bethesda Naval Hospital. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Young, Crystal Park.

The sailor, who has been in the Navy for about a year, was home to attend the funeral of his grandfather, Charles A. Hubbard, held Monday afternoon at the George Funeral Home.

He left for Bainbridge about 10:30 p. m. Monday.

As he was traveling alone in his car about nine miles west of Frederick he crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer loaded with steel and driven by Warren Beaver, 22, of 431 McKinley Avenue, East Vandergrift, Pa.

The victim was pinned in the wreckage and was extricated by Maryland State Trooper R. C. "Clem" Snyder, former local resident and later was removed to the Naval Hospital.

His parents traveled to Bethesda yesterday to see him and returned home last night.

Rt. 40 Decision Rests With U.S., Lawler Reports

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Secretary Joseph J. Lawler of the Pennsylvania Highways Department said last night the decision to make US. 40 a federal interstate highway rests with the U.S. Bureau of Public roads.

The section runs 138 miles between Hancock, Md., and Washington, Pa. It roughly parallels the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the south.

"If the U.S. Bureau of Public roads wants to increase Pennsylvania's mileage to include their highway, then, of course, we will gladly recommend it," he told a newsman. "It's entirely up to the bureau."

He made the statement after conferring with the Fayette County, Pa., Development Council.

Maryland highway officials are supporting the US 40 move.

Lawler explained there is a reluctance in some quarters to make US 40 an interstate route—and so qualify it for 90 per cent federal aid—because of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The entire length of the turnpike has been assigned to the federal interstate system.

AP Foreign Correspondent To Address ACEI Tuesday

C. YATES McDANIEL

The annual spring dinner meeting of the Association for Childhood Education International, Allegany County Branch, will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Country Club.

According to Raymond Skidmore, ACEI president, reservations for the dinner are expected to surpass previous records, and teachers from every school in the county have indicated an interest in the program.

Guest speaker this year will be C. Yates McDaniel, world traveler and foreign correspondent for the Associated Press, now assigned to the Pentagon.

A man of wide experience with international and domestic situations, Mr. McDaniel will interpret for his teacher-audience some of the happenings in today's hectic world, and will describe some of his experiences.

At the outbreak of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, he was in Tientsin when the bombers arrived. He rode a Chinese ambulance to Nanking when they arrived again. He watched them bomb Canton, Hankow and Singapore. The Japanese bombed the ship on which he was attempting to escape to Java. It took him seven and a half days and 1,200 roundabout miles to reach Batavia.

The Japanese followed him southward to Australia where for a period he headed the Associated Press bureau at Melbourne. He also headed the AP bureau at Singapore for a time.

More recently, the Associated Press has returned Mr. McDaniel to this country and he is presently on the all-important "Pentagon beat," where he is highly regarded as an able reporter and an authority.

He grew up in Soochow, China. His parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles G. McDaniel of Blackstone, Va., operated a Baptist mission there until the Japanese invasion.

Mr. McDaniel was sent to the United States for his education at the University of Virginia at Richmond. He worked on the Sarasota (Fla.) Morning Herald, and the Durham (N. C.) Herald, returning to China in 1929 to work for Shanghai newspapers. He joined the Associated Press in 1935.

He will be introduced by F. Allan Weatherholt of the staff of The Cumberland News.

The program will include the invocation by Earle Bracey, introduction of guests by the president, Mr. Skidmore; remarks by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools; and selected vocal numbers by the Fort Hill Serenaders, a quartet directed by Harold B. Hanson, Fort Hill High School music instructor.

Officers of the ACEI here also include Samuel Lisanti, first vice president; Orpha Clark second vice president; Helen Kreiling, corresponding secretary; Thomas Wagner, recording secretary; Mary Straw, treasurer, and Winifred Greene, advisor.

Mass Feeding Class Tonight

A class in emergency mass feeding, sponsored by the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross and County Civil Defense Organization, will be held this evening at 7 o'clock at Fort Hill High School.

The 16-hour course being taught by Mrs. Gladys Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias in county public schools, got under way last week. This evening the 23 participants will hear discussions on sanitation in a disaster feeding program, feeding for special groups and planning of a practice session on preparing sandwiches and coffee.

In the basic course each participant is furnished with a pocket manual for individual use in time of disaster.

The course, according to Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary of the county RC chapter, consists of five two-hour classes and a six-hour field demonstration which will be held the latter part of May in conjunction with "Operation Flame," a statewide CD alert involving fire fighting equipment and rescue teams.

Emmanuel Men To Hear Talk On Legislation

Roger Warren Jones, assistant director for legislative reference of the Bureau of the Budget, will address the Men of Emmanuel at a dinner meeting in the parish house of Emmanuel Episcopal Church at 6:30 p. m. today.

"The President and Legislation" will be the topic of his remarks.

W. Eric Gibbs, president of the Men of Emmanuel, said Mr. Jones has been connected with the federal government since 1933.

A 49-year-old native of New Hartford, Conn., Mr. Jones was graduated from Cornell University in 1928. He did graduate work at Columbia University from 1930 until 1932 and there obtained his M. A. degree.

Between 1933 and 1939, Mr. Jones held a series of posts with the Central Statistical Board in Washington. It was in 1939 that he joined the staff of the Bureau of the Budget.

His connection with the bureau was interrupted by three years of service in the Army during World War II. He held the rank of captain in the Officers Reserve Corps when called to active duty in 1942 and was a colonel when placed on inactive duty in December 1945. He received the Legion of Merit and the Order of the British Empire.

Mr. Jones has served as guest lecturer at Cornell, at the Littauer School of Harvard University, at the Woodrow Wilson School of Princeton University, and at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Cresaptown Fire Loss Is Held To $13,975

Company Answers 20 Calls In Year

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company answered 21 calls during the fiscal year which ended yesterday, according to the annual report of Fire Chief Arthur Winters.

Damage from the blazes within the territory protected by the company was estimated at $13,975.

Chief Winters said the number of calls was down but losses were up from the year before.

During the 1956 fiscal year, the company responded to 41 calls but fire losses were kept to the $2,365 mark.

During the period which began May 1, 1956, the Cresaptown company responded to five home fires which resulted in losses of $3,800.

The company was called out by two automobile fires which resulted in $25 damage, one farm building with a loss of $10,000, one farm tractor fire resulting in $150 damage, one electric motor blaze and eight grass and brush fires.

Cresaptown firemen answered one mutual aid call last fall when fire razed glass plants in the Narrows.

Firemen also turned out to join a search party for two small children.

Chief Winters said calls from brush and grass fires have been dropping steadily as a result of the work of the Forestry Department.

During the past year, 17 of the 56 active members of the department completed fire training courses conducted by the University of Maryland.

The company, which operates two pumpers and a jeep and trailer, added two fog nozzles and a hydrant adapter during the year and put a two-way radio on its first line pumper.

Three Injured As Car Strikes Cleaning Plant

Three persons were injured and considerable property damage was caused when the car in which they were riding apparently went out of control and hit a parked car and a dry cleaning establishment on Decatur Street early yesterday.

Approximately $250 damage was caused to the dry cleaning establishment. Three panels of window glass were shattered.

An Allegany County jury could not come to a decision and the case was moved first to Washington and then Garrett where the verdict in favor of Adams was returned.

The A & P argued before the Cour otf Appeals that no evidence was offered that the lettuce wasn't wholesome at the time of purchase.

Over 23,000 residents of Allegany County received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and a check yesterday showed $8,138 had been received in returns at headquarters.

Much more than $8,200 is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section, and it is hoped that at least $10,000 will be received this year.

Office Burglar Gets $438 At Lonaconing

Enters Insurance Firm, Tax Branch

Approximately $438 was taken by a fast-working culprit who broke into two Lonaconing business offices—operated by the assistant state's attorney and by a tax collector—yesterday during the noon hour. However a quantity of additional money was left undisturbed.

The theft occurred after $3,200 from the two offices had been deposited in the branch bank of the Liberty Trust Company, located in the same building where the breaking and entering took place.

Maryland State Police said the intruder jimmied the front doors of the offices of James Holmes, district tax collector, and an insurance agency owned by James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney of Allegany County.

Second-Floor Offices

The offices are located on the second floor of the building occupied by the branch bank. Mr. Getty reported that an inventory of cash in his office showed the culprit took $388, which is covered by insurance.

Approximately $50 was taken from the tax collector's office.

Shortly before the breaking and entering of that office, Mr. Holmes had deposited $2,500 in the bank. And prior to the forced entry of the insurance office, $700 had been deposited in the bank by Mrs. Isabell Grove, manager and secretary.

No Fingerprints Found

A small pinch bar or crow bar was used by the culprit who apparently left no fingerprints. He also overlooked other money as he hurridely completed his job.

An occupant of an apartment on the same floor said she was busy washing clothes and heard no unusual noise or disturbance between 12:05 p. m. and 12:50 p. m., when the breaking and entering occurred.

Mr. Getty pointed out the culprit apparently was familiar with the offices. Investigating are Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, Tfc. Donald Wade, and Trooper Joseph Stakem, of the State Police and Police Officer Dale Lynden of Lonaconing.

Rt. 40 Decision Rests With U.S., Lawler Reports

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Secretary Joseph J. Lawler of the Pennsylvania Highways Department said last night the decision to make US. 40 a federal interstate highway rests with the U.S. Bureau of Public roads.

The section runs 138 miles between Hancock, Md., and Washington, Pa. It roughly parallels the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the south.

"If the U.S. Bureau of Public roads wants to increase Pennsylvania's mileage to include their highway, then, of course, we will gladly recommend it," he told a newsman. "It's entirely up to the bureau."

He made the statement after conferring with the Fayette County, Pa., Development Council.

Maryland highway officials are supporting the US 40 move.

Lawler explained there is a reluctance in some quarters to make US 40 an interstate route—and so qualify it for 90 per cent federal aid—because of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The entire length of the turnpike has been assigned to the federal interstate system.

AP Foreign Correspondent To Address ACEI Tuesday

C. YATES McDANIEL

The annual spring dinner meeting of the Association for Childhood Education International, Allegany County Branch, will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Country Club.

According to Raymond Skidmore, ACEI president, reservations for the dinner are expected to surpass previous records, and teachers from every school in the county have indicated an interest in the program.

Guest speaker this year will be C. Yates McDaniel, world traveler and foreign correspondent for the Associated Press, now assigned to the Pentagon.

A man of wide experience with international and domestic situations, Mr. McDaniel will interpret for his teacher-audience some of the happenings in today's hectic world, and will describe some of his experiences.

At the outbreak of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, he was in Tientsin when the bombers arrived. He rode a Chinese ambulance to Nanking when they arrived again. He watched them bomb Canton, Hankow and Singapore. The Japanese bombed the ship on which he was attempting to escape to Java. It took him seven and a half days and 1,200 roundabout miles to reach Batavia.

The Japanese followed him southward to Australia where for a period he headed the Associated Press bureau at Melbourne. He also headed the AP bureau at Singapore for a time.

More recently, the Associated Press has returned Mr. McDaniel to this country and he is presently on the all-important "Pentagon beat," where he is highly regarded as an able reporter and an authority.

He grew up in Soochow, China. His parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles G. McDaniel of Blackstone, Va., operated a Baptist mission there until the Japanese invasion.

Mr. McDaniel was sent to the United States for his education at the University of Virginia at Richmond. He worked on the Sarasota (Fla.) Morning Herald, and the Durham (N. C.) Herald, returning to China in 1929 to work for Shanghai newspapers. He joined the Associated Press in 1935.

He will be introduced by F. Allan Weatherholt of the staff of The Cumberland News.

The program will include the invocation by Earle Bracey, introduction of guests by the president, Mr. Skidmore; remarks by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools; and selected vocal numbers by the Fort Hill Serenaders, a quartet directed by Harold B. Hanson, Fort Hill High School music instructor.

Officers of the ACEI here also include Samuel Lisanti, first vice president; Orpha Clark second vice president; Helen Kreiling, corresponding secretary; Thomas Wagner, recording secretary; Mary Straw, treasurer, and Winifred Greene, advisor.

In the basic course each participant is furnished with a pocket manual for individual use in time of disaster.

The course, according to Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary of the county RC chapter, consists of five two-hour classes and a six-hour field demonstration which will be held the latter part of May in conjunction with "Operation Flame," a statewide CD alert involving fire fighting equipment and rescue teams.

Burlington Girl Named National Merit Scholar

S. ELIZABETH REED

Miss S. Elizabeth Reed of Burlington, W. Va., a senior at Keyser High School, is one of the 830 winners of the largest scholarship competition ever conducted in the United States.

The 830 merit scholars and the colleges they have chosen to attend will share over $4 million in scholarship aid provided by 57 companies and foundations. The nationwide competition is conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which annually searches the nation for its most able high school seniors.

Miss Reed, who is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Reed of Burlington, earlier attended the Burlington Model School. She maintains an A average at Keyser High School. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the HiTimes staff and is secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Will Attend D&E

The Burlington girl also was president of her junior class at Keyser High School. She is the first girl in the Mineral County school to receive the Bausch and Lomb Science award. She is active in the Youth Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church and also is active in 4-H work. She plans to attend Davis and Elkins College on her scholarship, and major in mathematics.

Miss Reed was one of 13 West Virginians to win national merit scholarships. Of the others four are from Huntington, two each from Charleston and Parkersburg and one each from Clarksburg, St. Albans, Triadelphia and Wheeling.

Ten Marylanders won national merit scholarships. Five of them are from Baltimore and the other five from suburban Washington. Included are two from Bethesda and one each from Chevy Chase, Hyattsville and Takoma Park.

The only other Tri-State area merit scholarship winner is Michael D. Reynolds, 122 East Union Street, Somerset, Pa., one of 57 Pennsylvanians so honored. He is a student at Mercersburg Academy and plans to major in biology at Princeton University.

162,000 Took Part

Over 162,000 students, more than 10 per cent of the country's entire high school senior enrollment, entered the competition as the nominees of 12,500 high schools. The winners survived two rigorous college aptitude tests and displayed high personal achievement in winning the most sought-after awards available to high school students.

Each merit scholarship provides its winners with the funds he needs to attend the college of his choice for four years. Family resources, summer earnings of the student and college costs all are considered in determining the amount that accompanies each award. The grants to the merit scholars named today vary from a minimum honorary award of $100 a year for the four college years to over $2,000 a year in cases of great need. The average student's stipend is about $650 a year.

Among the donors to this scholarship program are The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, $500,000, and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Foundation, $60,000.

Cresaptown Fire Loss Is Held To $13,975

Company Answers 20 Calls In Year

The Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company answered 21 calls during the fiscal year which ended yesterday, according to the annual report of Fire Chief Arthur Winters.

Damage from the blazes within the territory protected by the company was estimated at $13,975.

Chief Winters said the number of calls was down but losses were up from the year before.

During the 1956 fiscal year, the company responded to 41 calls but fire losses were kept to the $2,365 mark.

During the period which began May 1, 1956, the Cresaptown company responded to five home fires which resulted in losses of $3,800.

The company was called out by two automobile fires which resulted in $25 damage, one farm building with a loss of $10,000, one farm tractor fire resulting in $150 damage, one electric motor blaze and eight grass and brush fires.

Cresaptown firemen answered one mutual aid call last fall when fire razed glass plants in the Narrows.

Firemen also turned out to join a search party for two small children.

Chief Winters said calls from brush and grass fires have been dropping steadily as a result of the work of the Forestry Department.

During the past year, 17 of the 56 active members of the department completed fire training courses conducted by the University of Maryland.

The company, which operates two pumpers and a jeep and trailer, added two fog nozzles and a hydrant adapter during the year and put a two-way radio on its first line pumper.

Three persons were injured and considerable property damage was caused when the car in which they were riding apparently went out of control and hit a parked car and a dry cleaning establishment on Decatur Street early yesterday.
